Statement On China Is Made By President

Truman's Statement Interpreted As Plea For Asiatic Peace

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Diplomatic quarters interpreted President Truman's strong statement on China's participation in the Korean battle today as a final plea for Asiatic peace.

Mr. Truman's statement was placating. But it put the Red Chinese on the spot as defiers of the United Nations, which it has sought to join, and as a tool of the Kremlin.

The statement came soon after Soviet delegate to the UN Jacob Malik had presented another document from Red China to the UN admitting participation in the Korean conflict. A reporter asked if Mr. Truman saw any significance in the fact that Russia's Malik had presented the document.

Draw Own Conclusions

The president suggested that the reporter draw his own conclusions.

In his official statement, Mr. Truman said:

"United Nations forces are now being attacked from the safety of a privileged sanctuary. Planes operating from bases in China cross over into Korea to attack UN ground forces and then flee back across the border.

"Chinese communist and North Korean communist forces are being reinforced, supplied and equipped from bases behind the safety of the Sino-Korean border."

These actions, the president added, are based on the "pretext that UN forces plan to cross the border.

This attitude, Mr. Truman said, is based without any concern for the UN resolutions.

To Localize Conflict

"On the contrary," the president continued, "it has been repeatedly stated that it is the intention of the UN to localize the conflict and to withdraw its forces from Korea as soon as the situation permits.

"Speaking for the U. S. government and people, I can give assurance that we support and are acting within the limits of UN policy in Korea, and that we have never at any time entertained any intention to carry hostilities into China.

"So far the U. S. is concerned,

PA NEWC OBSERVES

City workmen are making an improvement at Maryland avenue and East Washington street where they are in the process of removing the old square curbs and installing widely rounded curbs for the swifter movement of traffic. The street is used by motorists a great deal between Butler avenue and East Washington street, and bears much traffic.

* * *

Motorists driving into the city this morning from outlying points observed snow in the air, but it was not quite cold eoough to keep the snow on the ground. The snow turned into a cold rain.

* * *

Detours on both routes 108, Harlansburg road, and 422, Butler road, will remain in effect for a while yet, it is reported to Pa News. Harlansburg road detour will of necessity remain until about December 1 and the Butler road detour later. Clean-up work and berm improvements are under way on the Harlansburg road.

To Lay Men's Dormitory Cornerstone At Westminster College Saturday

Cornersstone laying ceremonies at the site of the new $500,000 Westminster college men's dormitory, now under construction, will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. between halves of the Westminster-Carnegie Tech football game.

Westminster College will lay the cornerstone to its $500,000 new men's dormitory Saturday at ceremonies between halves of the Carnegie Tech-Westminster football game.

The occasion will mark the second time in less than a month that the college has dedicated a new building. The cornerstone to a $250,000 field house was laid three weeks ago.

Saturday's ceremonies will begin at approximately 2:30 p. m. The beginning of the football contest will be moved up to 1:45 p. m. in order to allow 30 minutes for the half-time ceremonies.

Norman Igo of New Wilmington, chairman of the dormitory building committee, will preside at the ceremonies. Dr. Will W. Orr, college president, will lay the cornerstone.

Communist Guerrillas In Korea Pose Greater Threat

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Nov. 17.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's spokesman said late today that the communist guerrillas in Korea have been organized to the point where their activities now are "integrated" with front line developments.

"As a consequence, they now pose a greater threat to our lines in the rear," said the official at United Nations supreme command headquarters in Tokyo.

Simultaneously, South Korean Home Minister Chough Pyung declared in Seoul that North Korean guerilla forces are planning to recapture the republic of Korea capital with the aid of a "fifth column" inside the city.

Carnegie Has Death Tragedy

Police Report Woman's Death Due To Effects Of Brutal Attack

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—A Carnegie, Pa., woman died today at Pittsburgh's Allegheny General hospital today from the effects of a brutal beating administered by a sex fiend.

Mrs. Vivian Smith, 35, the victim, was so badly battered that surgeons did not find out she was shot in the head until 18 hours after her hospitalization.

Her battered body was found Wednesday night beside her car in nearby Scott township. Police think there may be a link between her death and the sex slaying of a Turtle Creek, Pa., woman, Mrs. Helen M. Pugliano, 25, last November 10.

Mrs. Pugliano was found beaten and shot to death in her automobile. Police said she also had been criminally attacked.

Mrs. Smith's husband, Paul K. Smith, said his wife was last seen when she left their home at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday to go to the home of her uncle.

Fumes Cause Death Of Two Children At Allentown, Pa.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 17.—(INS)—City officials were baffled today by the mysterious wave of gas fumes that filled three homes in Allentown and resulted in the deaths of two children.

The fatal victims were eight-year-old Nancy Amey and her sister Sandra, 11, who died within an hour of each other last night. Their brother, Larry, 12, was listed in critical condition, and their mother, Ruth, 29, was described as seriously ill.

Eight stricken occupants of the two other houses were reported recovered.

The victims were felled yesterday morning by the fumes throughout the day workmen for the Allentown-Bethlehem Gas Co. dug up the street to uncover the gas main all along the block where the homes are located, but they could find no leak.

Also, the gas lines in the three homes showed no faulty connections, and all trace of the gas itself apparently had vanished.

MRS. FREDERICK H. ECKER

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 17.—(INS)—The body of Mrs. Frederick H. Esker, the 48-year-old wife of an elderly insurance compnay executive, was found washed up on a South Carolina coastal beach today.

Mrs. Ecker and her fishing companion, James M. Herd, Jr., 38, a theatrical broker, had been sought by the coast guard for two days since their small boat was swamped off the coast of Charleston last Wednesday.

A civil air patrol plane spotted Mrs. Ecker's body on the south end of Edisto Beach, a few miles south of Charleston. Highway patrolmen recovered the body.

Mrs. Ecker's 83-year-old husband is the board chairman of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

Herd's Father Killed

GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

BRUNSWICK, Germany, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Rudolf Pleil, 26-year-old confessed "bluebeard" killer of 25 women, was sentenced by a German court today to life imprisonment with two accomplices.

The accomplices are Karl Hoffman, 36, and Konrad Schuessler, 21.

During his trial, Pleil, an ex-sailor, declared in court that "every man has his passion" and said his passion was thrill killing.

Pleil told the court;

"I had a right to kill because my emotions demanded it."

FREGIHTER REFLOATED

CHERBOURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The American freighter Tini, which ran aground on the French coast 20 miles west of Cherbourg with a cargo of heavy military equipment, was refloated today and towed to Cherbourg harbor. The Liberty ship grounded yesterday in fog-shrouded, heavy seas. The crew remained aboard for 24 hours until she could be refloated.

Rotary 'Rodeo' Draws 400 At New Wilmington

Twentieth Annual Buckwheat Rodeo On Thursday Night

Rotarians from far and near, numbering almost 400 in all, gathered at the New Wilmingtgon U. P. church Thursday evening for the 20th annual buckwheat rodeo, sponsored by the New Wilmington Rotary club.

Rev. Laurence Hall, pastor of the All Saints Episcopal church of Portsmouth, O., spoke on "Pass a Laugh Along". He stated that people would be better off if they laughed more, and did his part to see that those at the rodeo did their share of laughing.

King Is Crowned

Les Stauffer of the Warren, O., Rotary club, was crowned king of the buckwheat eaters after putting away 16 sausages and 28½ buckwheat cakes.

"I could have eaten more, but they took my plate away," declared the champ.

Twenty-three junior champ cards were also awarded to those persons who seemed to be more than holding their own with the buckwheat cakes. The champ cards were miniature pigs made by the Westminster college art department for the Rotary club. A big card was presented to Mr. Stauffer.

60 Gallons of Batter

Almost one pound of sausage per person was consumed at the rodeo, as 350 pounds of sausage, 60 gallons of buckwheat batter, 35 pounds of butter, 75 gallons of coffee and 20 gallons of syrup disappeared.

Batter for the buckwheat was made up by Bill Gilliland, former New Wilmington burgess, and Rotary member, and his wife.

President Dave Boyd of the New Wilmington club welcomed the visitors to the rodeo. James Hayden led the group in songs and sang several solos. Paul Gamble of the New Wilmington club played a solo on the solovox.

Roll call of clubs was held and past district governors and present visiting governors were introduced. Five past district governors and three present governors of different districts were present.

The speaker for the evening, Rev. Hall, was introduced by an old friend, Dr. Hugh Hart.

Rochester had the largest visiting group present—between 40 and 45 Rotarians making the trip.

Young Women's guild of the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church cooked and served the meal, with Mrs. Arthur Minteer and Miss Patricia Jones in charge.

Hunt Eleven Men Missing In Plane Crash

Air Force Bombers Collide In Flight Near Tucson, Arizona

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 17.—(INS)—The desert wastes of Tucson were searched today for 11 men missing in the crash of two Air Force bombers which collided in flight.

Two men were killed outright and it was feared that most, if not all, of the missing 11 also perished.

The collision occurred yesterday afternoon while a B-50 with 13 men aboard was taking fuel from a B-29 with 10 aboard.

Six men from the B-50 and four from the B-29 survived the crash.

Two of the survivors suffered broken ankles when they landed with their parachutes.

The big planes plummeted to earth on an Indian reservation near the isolated village of Silnakya.

Apparently one plane dropped down on the other. An Indian youth who saw the crash said it looked like one plane was falling.

U.N. Council Is Seeking To Halt Conflict Spread

Western Nations Open Discussion On Appeal To China

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Nov. 17—Western Nations opened discussisons today on an appeal to Communist China to get out of Korea, spurred by the Russian announcement that the six-power Security Council proposal for ending Chinese intervention will be vetoed.

President Truman's assurance to the Peiping regime yesterday that Manchuria will not be attacked by U. N. forces in Korea touched off the Western plan to by-pass the Kremlin for a direct appeal to the Chinese.

Mr. Truman's message was read to the Security Council by U. S. Representative Ernest A. Gross before the 11-nation body adjourned Korean discussion until this afternoon.

Seek To Halt Spread

Gross said later that close consultations between the Defense and State Departments in Washington are being maintained in order to do everything possible to prevent the Korean conflict from spilling over into a general conflict.

Truman's 'Fair Deal' Plans May Face Some Obstacles

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—House GOP Leader Martin served notice today that President Truman's "Fair Deal" program cannot go through Congress without Republican "consent."

Other congressional Republicans were quick to challenge Mr. Truman's announcement that despite the Nov. 7 GOP victories he will continue to press for his program and expects to get everything he asks for from Cnogress.

"Over Optimistic"

Rep. Reed (R) N. Y., ranking Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee now considering the administration's four billion dollar excess profits tax request, said the President is "over optimistic." Reed added:

"I think he is misinterpreting the election results in regard to very much of his program. I don't think any rent control bill will pass, for example, in the short session."

The President told his weekly news conference he will ask the Congress when it reconvenes on Nov. 27 to extend the Federal Rent Control Law. He announced he is not calling Congress back early.

Not Much To Happen

Rep. Curtis (R) Neb., had this retort for the President:

"If Mr. Truman's success in the

Probe Slaying Tragedy On Famous Skyline Drive

FRONT ROYAL, Va., Nov. 17.—(INS)—The tragedy of the impulse slaying of a four-year-old girl by her father in scenic Shenandoah National Park moved away today from this Blue Ridge mountain town.

In Community hospital Mrs. Florence Danton, 32, fought for her life, which police said her husband, Andrew, of Washington, tried to take at the same time as he killed the couple's daughter, Lynn Frances, Wednesday.

But Danton, who police said confessed the slaying, was removed to Petersburg, Va., federal penitentiary after he was charged with the murder. The charges were filed by the FBI and the trial will be in federal court, probably at Roanoke, Va., because the crime was committed on federal property.

And the body of the little victim, Lynn Frances, is to be sent to New York for funeral services and burial. Danton's family lives in New York.

Pittsburgh Newsprinter Service Hit

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Repairmen worked furiously today to restore Teletype Newsprinter service in the steel city district knocked out by a fire in the strike-bound Bell Telephone building in downtown Pittsburgh.

The three-alarm blaze late yesterday afternoon in the 21st floor elevator penthouse shut down the transcontinental Teletype hookup of the American Telephone and Telegraph company in Pittsburgh.

Thirteen persons, trapped in an elevator for more than an hour between the eighth and ninth floors, received a "bad scare" and a thorough drenching by water before they were rescued.

Damage Not Estimated

Company officials said they could not immediately estimate the damage, caused chiefly by water, but a district manager, H. K. Gregory, said it won't be too high.

Most of the damage was to Teletype equipment which was water soaked and had to be dismantled and dried. Partial Teletype service was restored about 6:30 a. m. this morning, and officials said they hoped to have full service restored by tonight.

Hundreds of employes were forced into the streets by smoke which filted down the elevator shafts as far as the first floor.

Both company and union officials said the fire had no connection whatever with the strike against the company by CIO Communications Workers.

Consistory To End Sessions

Fall Reunion Will Close This Evening

Conferring of degrees on the large class of candidates who have been in attendance at the sessions of the 87th semi-annual reunion of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., will be brought to a close this evening, Commander-in-Chief C. Merle Raisley announced today.

There were a large number of members present for the sessions Thursday, including a number of visitors from surrounding consistories.

Following the close of the reunion this evening, plans will be made for the reunion party, which will take place on December 1, which is limited to a member and his lady only.

The program for the entertainment will follow the usual lines, Chairman Fred M. Alexander of the entertainment committee states, with the doors opening at 6:30 o'clock. Movie shorts will be shown as the audience assembles, with group singing at 7:45 o'clock, led by David W. Rees, song leader, followed by variety acts and a feature movie.

American Forces Seeking To Seal Off Northeast Corner

By IRVING R. LEVINE
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

SEOUL, Nov. 17.—Tank-led American troops, fighting in 22-below-zero temperatures, cracked Red defenses below Kapsan in northeast Korea today and pushed within 20 miles of the Manchurian border.

Driving to seal off Korea's northeast corner, neighboring Russian Siberia as well as China's Manchuria, the U. S. Army's Seventh Division flushed out Chinese and Korean Red troops from well-entrenched positions.

Beat Off Counter Blows

An armored column spearheading the advance beat off two enemy counter-blows, after which the Communists fled north toward the road hub of Kapsan, with the Americans in close pursuit.

An official spokesman said the U. S. troops in that area were mmeeting only "token resistance" Friday from Red stragglers left behind when the main enemy forces retreated after offering stiff opposition for two days.

On the opposite side of the pagged 250-mile front slanting across North Korea, other United Nations columns pressed cautiously forward up the western seaboard to within 55 miles of the Manchurian frontier.

These Allied units in northwest Korea still were meeting resistance that ranged from non-existent to sporadic.

Gains up to Four Miles

The UN troops registered gains up to four miles Thursday as they approached the main Red defenses in that area.

But in the central sector strong Chinese and North Korean Red forces delivered two new counter-blows in heavy fighting against two South Korean divisions and an American regiment.

Bone of contention in this battle was a vital 30-mile west to east highway road between Kunuri and pivotal Tokchon. It is the only major lateral road within a 40-mile- belt linking the two coastal areas across North Korea's narrow "neck."

Far behind the lines, sizeable

Wooster Mayor Ends Own Life

WOOSTER, O., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Wooster Mayor Francis Hillen carried out a promise to "make big news" when he killed himself in his office last night.

Hillen shot himself in the head with a .38 caliber pistol belonging to the chief of police shortly after charges were preferred against him in connection with $3,600 missing from the city's polio and hospital fund.

"I'm going to make big news," said Hillen, who was to have been asked to resign today.

The coroner issued a suicide verdict after two policemen said they were in the next room when Hillen shot himself.

Economic Aid To Europe Is To Continue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS) — President Truman's quarterly Marshall plan report declared today the United States will continue a "vital margin" of economic aid to Europe despite huge gains in European production, employment and dollar earnings

The document asserted that the European program will remain intact because "the required expansion in military production can not be achieved unless Europe's economic base is further strengthened."

At the same time, this government will push forward its aid plan for the Communist-threatened nations of southeast Asia for two specific reasons outlined in the president's report to Congress.

Under the present law Marshall plan aid is scheduled to end in 1952, but the administration and its other supporters are expected to press for extension. Former Army Secretary Gordon Gray recently completed a comprehensive report on European conditions, and recommended that aid be continued at least two years.

Martin said that he agrees with Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, that Congress should just "meet and adjourn" in November except for acting on any war emergency matters the President might send up.

Martin predicted that the House will pass an excess profits tax bill but that it would not get action in the Senate this year.

The minority leaders said he saw some chance of action on an emergency defense appropriation bill, which the President admitted had figured in his consideration of possibly calling Congress back early.

But Martin said that in either the short session or next year's new 82nd Congress "nothing of the President's program will go through without Republican consent."

Mr. Truman told reporters he would press for his Fair Deal Program as long as he is President.

STATEMENT ON CHINA MADE BY PRESIDENT

I wish to state unequivocally that because of our deep devotion to the cause of world peace and our long standing friendship for the people of China, we will take every honorable step to prevent any extension of hostilities in the far east.

Being Deceived

"If the communist authorities or people believe otherwise, it can only be because they are being deceived by those to whose advantage it is to prolong and extend hostilities in the far east against the interests of the far eastern people.

"Let it be understod, however, that a desire for peace, in order to be effective, must be shared by all concerned. If the Chinese communists share the desire of the UN for peace and security in the far east they will not take upon themselves the responsibility for obstructing the objectives of the UN in Korea."

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the state of the world is uncertain; and,

WHEREAS, the events of the past 35 years have clearly demonstrated that the need for a better education of our youth so that the mistakes of our past generations will not be repeated in the future; and,

WHEREAS, the Optimist clubs are devoting their efforts to the task of developing and rehabilitating boys into responsible men and particularly is the New Castle Optimist club performing a service of great value to this community; and,

WHEREAS, the week of November 12 through November 18 is being observed as Optimist Week throughout the nation;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, as Mayor of New Castle do hereby commend the Optimists of New Castle for the service they have performed in our community and I further proclaim that the week of November 12 through November 18, 1950, shall be duly observed in New Castle as Optimist Week. I further urge that every citizen of New Castle join in observing Optimist Week and in abiding by its policy as "A Friend of the Boy" and its recognition of the importance of "Today's Boy—Tomorrow's World."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of New Castle, Pennsylvania to be affixed this 15th day of November 1950.

JOHN F. HAVEN
Mayor

"It is the work of public spirited men such as the members of our local service clubs," said Mayor Haven, "that makes our community one of the finest in North America. Too much cannot be said of their efforts and I sincerely hope that they will continue with the fine work that they are doing."

U.N. COUNCIL IS SEEKING TO HALT CONFLICT SPREAD

cated that intensive, behind-the-scene talks were begun by leading U. N. governments to mobilize the full weight of moral support behind the Security Council before a vote is called on the six-power resolution, which calls on Communist China to withdraw its forces from Korea.

The resolution also assures Peiping of U. N. respect for the Manchurian border and Chinese interests in the Yalu River Dam area.

Gross said that the United States is inclined to leave it to the nine other non-Russian members of the council to decide whether to defer a vote on the six-power resolution —which Russia anounced would be vetoed—until after Thanksgiving.

It is likely that the vetoed resolution would be taken to the Assembly by the United States, where it can be dealt with under the newly-adopted "United Action For Peace" procedure.

trawler. They are Joseph B. Rodgers, a New York real estate broker, and Peter Morris, a guide, of Charleston.

Mrs. Ecker's life jacket was found in the mouth of the North Edisto river late Wednesday. Coast guardsmen said the tidal sweep off Seabrook beach, a favorite fishing spot for Charleston's winter society set, might carry bodies underwater for miles.

From his bed in a Charleston hospital, Rodgers said the small boat sank when "we hit heavy water, a rip tide, just off the sandbar from which we planned to fish". He said he struggled five hours to reach the sandbar and "then there was nobody else in sight".

COMMUNIST GUERRILLAS IN KOREA POSE GREATER THREAT

Seoul dispatch as estimating 40,000 organized red guerrillas have been operating in South Korea during the past 10 days.

Chough said fanatical communists are volunteering to serve as guerrillas. He declared his police have evidence of a big network of red cells operating in Seoul in every walk of life.

The ROK cabinet minister said that when the North Koreans withdrew from Seoul they left instructions with the communist cells to remain underground and await the return of red forces "in two or three months".

Russian Aid Promised

Chough quoted arrested cell members as saying they have been assured Rusisa would give the North Koreans direct aid eventually.

From the allied-occupied North Korean red capital of Pyonyang, INS war correspondent Lee Ferrero reported UN intelligence agents are probing reports that two North Korean divisions are operating along the 38th parallel.

The parallel, formerly the artificial boundary between North and South Korea, lies 110 miles behind the front lines. Ferrero said the reports identified North Korean Lt. Gen. Choi Hyun as in command of the guerrilla forces operating along the parallel.

Home Minister Chough in Seoul said Gen. Kim Chaik, former commander-in-chief of the red "peoples' army" in South Korea, was commanding the estimated 40,000 communist guerrillas below the parallel.

The enemy guerrilla activities have tied down the American 25th infantry division, the U. S. 187th airborne regimental combat team, a Turkish regiment, an elite South Korean regiment and a Philippine army unit.

These allied forces have been diverted from front line duty but have prevented major breaks in the main UN supply lines.

HEALTH CODE

WASHINGTON—(INS)—American housewives may soon have to face a government health code for homes, something like the one already established for restaurants and hotels. Of course, the United States Public Health Service won't formally supervise our 35 million homes. But it does expect to dish out suggestions for preserving food in the home along the lines of the rules for public eating places.

Lieutenant Reed At Reese Air Base As Flying Instructor

Second Lieutenant J. Charles Reed, who completed his advanced multi-engine training at Reese Air Force Base, Texas, on August 4, 1950, reported back, Monday, Nov. 13, for assignment as a flying instructor.

Lieutenant Reed graduated from West Point in June 1949 with a bachelor of science degree in engineering and started his basic flying training at Perrin Air Force Base, Texas, on April 3, 1950. Upon completing his aviation cadet training as a student officer, he attended the Air Force Pilot Instructor school at Craig Air Force Base, Alabama.

The lieutenant is a graduate of New Castle high school, and attended Lafayette college at Eaton, Pa., before entering the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.

Lieutenant Reed is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Jay L. Reed, 1207 North Mercer street, New Castle, Pa.

NORMA WEINGARTNER GUEST AT SHOWER

Miss Norma Weingartner, bride-elect of November 25, was guest of honor at a pre-nuptial event held in her honor on Wednesday evening. Hostesses for the festive occasion were Mrs. Neal Yoho and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence Spears, with several friends gathering in the former's home at R. D. 1, New Castle.

Games provided the evening's entertainment, with several prizes awarded to those present. An array of lovely gifts of a miscellaneous nature was presented to the bride-to-be later in the evening.

A tempting lunch was served by the hostesses, with miniature baskets as favors.

Miss Weingartner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weingartner of the New Castle-Ellwood City road, will become the bride of John Yoho, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Yoho of Castlewood on Saturday, November 25.

Wedding vows will be exchanged in the Bell Memorial Presbyterian church of Ellwood City at 7:30 o'clock.

B.O.B. CLUB FETES MRS. A. AUDINO

Mrs. Anthony Audino was honored on her birthday anniversary when members of the B. O. B. club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Guido Santangelo, West Clayton street.

Following the business meeting, cards were the pastime of the evening. The door prize was won by Mrs. Joseph DeRobbio, while Mrs. Nick Ezzo was a special guest. Several cards and hankies were presented to Mrs. Audino for her birthday.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. DeRobbio.

On November 28 the club will gather at the home of Mrs. Frank Tuscano, Sharp street.

JOSEPHINE GLORIOSO HONORED AT SHOWER

Honoring Miss Josephine Glorioso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Glorioso, R. D. 6, New Castle, whose marriage to Charles Pardick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pardick, Duquesne, Pa., will take place on Saturday, Nov. 25, a pre-nuptial shower was held Nov. 14 at the Sons of Italy hall.

The shower was given by Mrs. Joseph Glorioso and Mrs. Frank Pardick, mothers of the prospective birdal couple. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Anna Palmer, Mrs. Joseph Glorioso, Mrs. Pete Carando, Mrs. Jack Butera, Mrs. Michael Palmer, and Mrs. John Favorite.

Miss Glorioso was the recipient of many lovely gifts in remembrance of the occasion.

During the entertainment period prizes were captured by Mrs. Theresa Hanley, Clara Glorioso, Mrs. Tony Ezzo, Athena Pappas, Mrs. Michael Palmer, and Theresa Gensanti. A dainty lunch was enjoyed later by the guests.

The principals will be married at an open church wedding in St. Vitus church at 9 a.m. In the evening a reception will be held at King Humbert hall from 7:30 to 11 p.m.

Miss Glorioso has chosen Miss Cetta Gianta as maid of honor and bridesmaids will be Janet Favorite, Marcella Pardick, Justine, Carson, and Athena Pappas. Miss Carol Dambrocia will be the flower girl.

The groom-to-be has asked Matthew Pardick, his brother, to serve as best man, Charles Palmer, Mike Casale, Benny Mastern, and Ralph Ciazza to act as ushers and Charles Glorioso, brother of the bride, to be junior usher.

Friendship Circle

Missionary Friendship circle of Sampson street Missionary Alliance church assembled Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Gene McEwen, Bell avenue.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. Lester Schleh; vice-president, Mrs. Herman Byler; secretary, Mrs. H. Stoner, and treasurer, Mrs. John Stoner.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

CLARK-BUTZ WEDDING TO BE HELD SATURDAY

The wedding of Miss Patricia A. Clark and John R. Butz will be solemnized Saturday, Nov. 18, at 2:30 o'clock in the First U. P. church, Clen-Moore boulevard.

The custom of open church will be observed for the ceremony. No formal invitations have been issued.

SISTERHOOD HAS EVENING MEETING

Members of the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood held their regular evening meeting in Tifereth Israel synagogue, South Jefferson street, Nov. 14.

The meeting opened with the singing of America, with Mrs. Maurice Slavonsky as piano accompanist, and prayer by Mrs. David Nathanson followed.

Greetings were extended from Mrs. Abe Cohen. Roll call of officers and their reports followed: Mrs. Edward Buntman, Mrs. Alex Buntman, Mrs. Simon Cohen, Mrs. Morris Kantz, and Mrs. Louis Gordon were hostesses for the evening. Mrs. A. Ginsburg of Butler, formerly of New Castle, was a special guest.

Committee chairmen reports were given by Mrs. A. Shapiro, Mrs. Sam Wolfe, and Mrs. Harry Moresky.

A report was given by the religious chairman, Mrs. David Nathanson, who announced that a Chanukah play will be held Dec. 10, at 2:30 p.m., with Rabbi Jules Lipschutz in charge.

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Jules Lipschutz, who led them in group singing after which she presented Mrs. Alec Samuels, current event chairman, who gave current events of interest to the Jewish people in regard to Jewish literature, and also told of the first synagogue in the country having its 125th anniversary last week.

Mrs. Henry Rajs, newcomer to this country from a Displaced Persons' Camp in Germany sang two numbers which were appreciated by the assembly. Mrs. Rajs, who with her husband and daughter came to this country last December, is quite active in the organization.

Mrs. L. F. Kohn spoke to the group on books and displayed an exhibit of books, new and old. She stated that the Bible is still the best-seller in this country and gave highlights of the 10 new books which dealt with life in Israeli.

Mrs. Lipschutz thanked those taking part in the program and announced that the annual exchange of gifts will be held at the next meeting. Hatikvah was sung in closing.

Refreshments were served from an L-shaped table with a large basket of fruit as the centerpiece.

A 'SHOW ME' ATTITUDE

Senator Taft, Senator Ferguson and others, in public utterances, have left no doubt that one of the results of the election will be a more cautious attitude on the part of Senate Republicans toward expenditures for foreign aid. They will insist that Congress give consideration to the nation's ability to pay, and that there is no doubt as to what this country is to receive in return.

In administration circles it has become a habit to pin the label of isolationist upon any member of Congress who does not sign quickly on the dotted line whenever there is put before him a request for money for a foreign country. This is sheer name-calling and was so recognized by the voters of Ohio who returned Mr. Taft to office, by the voters of Colorado who re-elected Senator Millikin, and by the voters of Illinois who registered their preference for former Representative Dirksen over Senator Lucas.

Throughout the campaign Taft, Millikin and Dirksen were pictured as isolationists. The fact that they won is evidence that the people of three important states do not subscribe to he blank-check theory which has marked the administration's foreign policy.

So in the future the members of the Senate will have to be "shown"—shown where the foreign funds are coming from, how they are to be used, and whether this nation is getting its money's worth. Level-headed Americans will welcome this prospect of a more careful husbandry of the nation's resources.

GOP MAY GAIN SENATE

There is a strong chance, mathematically speaking, of a Republic Senate before 1952. The Senate lineup for the Eighty-second Congress, if nothing happens to change it before January, will be 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans.

If a recount in the close Connecticut Senate race should reverse the result, the lineup would be 48 Democrats and 48 Republicans. But the Democrats would still control, as Vice President Barkley would then hold the deciding vote.

What could reverse political control of the Senate is the death or resignation of one or two Democratic senators from states with Republican governors. (One would be enough if the lineup were 48 to 48; two if it remains 49 to 47.)

It would then be a Republican Senate, unless or until a Republican senator from a state with a Democratic governor resigned or died. The latter is mathematically less probable because there are fewer Republican Senators and fewer Democratic governors.

These calculations are based, of course, on the fact that when a governor appoints a Senate replacement, he is almost certain to name a member of his own party.

But how often do senators die or resign? The Senate has 96 members, few of whom are under 40, while a substantial number are past 60. Senatorial deaths in the last six two-year sessions have averaged five a session. In the last session, there were three resignations.

So it would not be surprising if there should be eight vacancies to be filled in the Senate during the next session of Congress, during which party control of the chamber could switch.

JUST ANOTHER ILLIBERAL

Time was when the words of Thomas Jefferson meant something to many people; when to be known as a Jeffersonian Democrat was held to be an honor by those who looked upon themselves as being liberal in their views, and devoted to the cause of the people.

But the times have changed. Now those who try to follow in the steps of Jefferson are called by other names, and some of our modern liberals would call a person who charted his thinking along the following sentiments an illiberal:

"I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest dangers to be feared . . .

"To preserve our independence we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude.

"If we run into such debt we must be taxed in our food and drink; in our labors and in our amusements.

"We must prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them."

Yet, the foregoing sentiments were expressed by none other than Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States, who is historically credited with being the leader of those who made the Constitution and Bill of Rights apply to all the people.

MERRY CHRISTMAS (A. AGE)

A Christmas toy ad in a metropolitan newspaper is a little startling. The suggested gift, no doubt, would be just right for fiendish brats in some of the cartoons—if one didn't live near him. Even so, they ought to get it as a birthday present. For Christmas, it doesn't seem quite the thing, somehow.

"Nuclear Physics Atomic Energy Lab," the ad calls it. "This wonderful set will aid young scientists in understanding the mysterious universe of the atom."

But the accompanying "full-color booklet explaining atomic energy" will not reveal to Junior how to make a bomb out of "uranium ore (perfectly harmless)" and the other stuff in this wonderful set. He's not going to be able to drop toy bombs on cities of doll houses.

However, many parents will forego the privilege of buying Junior one this year. Even if they weren't the least bit squeamish, or something, there's the fact that the price, too, is slightly atomic—$42.50.

Big Four Conference Possible

The big four council of foreign ministers—the "on again off again" factor in world diplomacy—seemed to be shaping up again for a possible early conference.

For more than a week now, the western allies have blown hot and cold on the desirability or even practical purpose of such a session at the present time.

One day the project has appeared to be out of the question; the next it has been under serious consideration.

The truth is that the French government has been trying desperately to keep the door open to the Soviet proposal made at the recent Prague cominform coference for a new big four meeting to discuss the problems of Germany.

This has been done by refusing to reject the Russian suggestion out of hand.

Initial Inclination

Such had been the initial inclination on the part of the United States and Great Britain because the Prague declaration ignored entirely the western contention that the first step regarding Germany must be agreement for free and open nationwide elections.

France appears to have succeeded in staving off flat rejection by making it a condition that any new big four meeting must not be confined to Germany alone but must embrace all outstanding issues.

British Foreign Secretary Bevin has swung around to support of this compromise, which was presented by French Foreign Secretary Robert Schuman.

Demand Sincerity Proof

The United States simply stands flat on insistence that Soviet Russia must give some unmistakable proof of sincerity before the top level group is again assembled.

For the meantime, there is to be an exploratory investigation at "ambassadorial level."

According to an announcement in Paris, the envoys of the western nations—possibly at Lake Success—will have preliminary talks.

These may be secret. But from them is expected to emerge information that will serve as a guidepost pointing out whether a four-power conference would have any useful purpose at all.

The United States government has cited any number of instances where the Soviets could show their sincerity. The Korean situation may be too complicated at the present time to serve as a sounding board.

Could Easily Start

But the Soviets easily could set international diplomatic machinery in motion by removing the roadblocks preventing an Austrian peace treaty—certainly a document long overdue especially in view of post-war allied pledges promising Austria priority.

The Austrians were absolved of war guilt.

The big four victors agreed unanimously that Adolf Hitler was the culprit who seized the homeland he had once deserted and by sheer force of arms and will turned it into an instrument of the Nazi war machine.

Soviet Russia went along with this view. But although treaty negotiations started off excellently, they bogged down on questions of reparations, navigational rights and Russian claims to Austrian industrial earnings.

May Frame Reply

It was clear that Russian insistence on any of these points would cripple Austria completely and the deputies handling the Austrian negotiations on the allied side have purposely let the fruitless negotiations go on to forestall this dire eventuality.

According to the paris announcement, the ambassadors will discuss and possibly frame a reply to the Soviet proposal.

This will leave the immediate initiative up to Moscow.

If there is stony silence or invective, the big four will remain out of action.

If they offer any real encouragement, the council will meet, for better or for worse. But at least some of the existing world suspense may be lifted and in any case the Soviet plans for the future made somewhat clearer than they are at the present.

Just Folks

KINSHIP

Though rich or poor it's all the same.
A fever pays no heed to fame.
Even the commonest rash or itch
Will vex and irritate the rich
And every pain a poor man bears
Will set to groaning millionaires.

To great and humble when they're ill
The doctors give the self-same pill.
The surgeons use the self-same knife
And skill to save a poor man's life
Which to the table they would bring
To mend the body of a king.

Doubt brotherhood! 'Tis in the breath
All mortals draw from birth to death.
'Tis proved by every hope and fear
And every smile and every tear,
And by the Heaven we pray to see
That meant for brotherhood were we.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

YOUR CHILD'S ALLOWANCE

A good allowance is based on the budget principle. It provides a definite amount for each of several known regular needs and also for a small amount of "pocket money." Such an allowance enables the child to know just how much money he may have to spend for essentials and luxuries. He has an incentive, therefore, to plan and weigh values. He may be able to direct himself to go without numerous luxuries in order to have other values he deems more desirable.

He grows in self-reliance, independence and responsibility, and enjoys the self-regard acquired therefrom. Moreover, the plan removes a source of arguments and mutual irritations between parents and children which are almost inevitable if money is doled out to the child when he asks for it. Furthermore, the total expenditures by the child on an allowance is nearly always far less than when money is merely doled out. (My bulletin, "Allowances" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.)

Amusement Park

The budget principle is very desirable in many unexpected situations. For example, the family decides this evening to go to an amusement park. While there, the child from six to twelve may beg for money for this and that indefinitely. He may do this unless he be given a definite amount to spend, preferably before the family leaves home.

It is easy to see that no allowance scheme is workable if supplemented by frequent indiscriminate gifts or if the allowance be invaded by a plan of punishment. In either instance, the amount available cannot be certain. The basic principle of budgeting has been impaired. So far as possible, gifts of money had, as a rule, better be put into savings or into useful purchases.

Helping At Home

When the child is paid for helping at home he does gain something in learning the value of money, but if his parents strictly hold to paying him only when he does the job faithfully, he may not earn exactly the same from week to week. The average chid will neglect some assigned jobs at home, especially if he soon learns that, in spite of much parental complaining and jawing, he will pretty surely get the allowance anyway. When this happens moral harm has occured. The wise parent assigns the allowance without its being tied to doing-job strings. He sees to it that the youngster does certain jobs regardless of allowance.

In any good allowance scheme parents don't give extra money for things budgeted in the allowance. However, unforseen situations will inevitably arise—a good symphony, play or film—for which money should be provided, if available. Nor, as a rule, should parents lend the child amounts to be deducted from a future allowance. Another temptation is to advance the child money to buy something he plans to save for. It is hard, as you know, to pay for a "dead horse," and if such a debt is allowed to go by default, the consequent moral damage may manifestly be very great. A better way is to let the child delay his purchase until he has saved or earned a good portion of its cost.

They Say

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Acheson: "We are in a very dangerous period. Disaster can be avoided only by a great deal of common sense in the leadership and the people."

NEW YORK — Economic Stabilizer Alan Valentine: "Will it be business or labor which will set the nation the first examples of restraint and thus break the upward spiral of inflation?"

NEW YORK—Nobel prize-winning philosopher Bertrand Russell: "The principle of unrestricted national sovereignty, such as cherished by the Russians today, must be abolished."

WASHINGTON—Treasury Secretary Snyder: "I think individuals are going to have to pay a pretty high tax before this defense program is over."

Bible Thought

Jesus said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, follow Me. And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful; for he was very rich. And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, He said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! —Luke 18.22, 23, 24.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

Have an idea . . . concerns all of you people . . . and if you like to think along this particular line . . . go right ahead. With all the business of money raising that we have had this fall . . . with all the special talk about particular items such as babies, schools, newspapers, veterans, fires, etc., and the weeks set aside for each of us to think about these little topics . . . It is our firm opinion that something should be done for the fellow and gal who would just like to be left alone.

* * *

By fellow and gal . . . we don't mean the lovers or newly marrieds . . . But each fellow and gal from one to 100. Each of us who go to make up these United States . . . Just set a week aside and call it "Leave-us-alone week". During that week no one will ask anyone else for anything. Business would go on as usual . . . BUT no church suppers . . . no fish fries . . . no bingo prizes . . . no donations to this or that.

* * *

Also, there would be no meetings that week . . . all organizations would change their schedule of board meetings if so previously arranged . . . Tom and Joe would then have an opportunity to stay at home with the family or go out with the boys . . . But no meetings that pertain to the special week subjects that have been thrown at us the other 51 weeks of the year.

* * *

To accomplish all this . . . to set aside such a week . . . you will readily see that it will take the complete cooperation of everyone . . . fellow and gal from one to 100.

* * *

If you are interested in such a scheme . . . talk to your friends . . . But don't let the federal government officials hear about it or they might try to pass some legislation while we are all resting up. Anyhow it sounds mighty good right now . . . a "Leave-us-alone week".

ONE-TRACK MINDS

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Republicans Showing Restraint

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Whether it's their new responsibility or just caution that comes when ambition burns brightly, the victorious Republicans are showing considerable restraint in the aftermath of their triumph. That was conspicuous at Senaotr Robert A. Taft's big moment when at least 150 newspaper correspondents came to hear the views of one who had obiviously been elevated to the top of the political list.

Ordinarily, Taft speaks his mind with great freedom. In the past this has sometimes got him into trouble.

But under the sudden glow of the klieg lights and against the whirring of the newsreel cameras the senator from Ohio was far more reticent than is his custom. There were questions on which he elected to reserve judgment. On western Europe he said that some military assistance was necessary but he wanted to have the entire European program reviewed before coming to any decision.

Taxpayer Got Short End

If this could mean a realistic review of both military and economic assistance programs, rather than merely a brandishing of the old meat ax, it would be genuinely useful. In conspicuous instances the economic program has been administered with too little regard for recovery and too much regard for the feelings of those who want to preserve their position of power. The American taxpayer has, in other words, got the short end of it while the big European taxpayer has too often got all the breaks.

Taft rejected the tag of isolationist. Senator-elect Everett Dirksen in an earlier interview did likewise even though he campaigned on a Chicago Tribune platform. Dirksen referred to himself as a "moderationist", whatever that may mean.

For 1952, and that's what those lights and cameras were focused on, this matter of attitudes is likely to be of the first importance. The voters in recent years have shown a strong distate for the take-it-for granted candidate.

Truman Speech Harmful

In 1948 President Truman was in the role of humble yet friendly petitioner asking his neighbors for their votes. Governor Thomas E. Dewey, his opponent, appeared to many who saw him to take the attitude that he was doing them a favor by campaigning at all. Unquestionably his seemingly lofty demeanor was resented.

This year it was Truman who appeared supremely, almost disdainfully, self-confident. It is generally believed that his one and only campaign speech—in St. Louis—did more harm than good. To many in the television audience he seemed to be strutting his stuff with unbearable complacency, given the state of the world and America's position in that world.

It was definitely not the moment to boast of America's prosperity. Nor can you fool people in season and out about the origins of that prosperity. It took World War II to end mass unemployment and raise purchasing power to boom-time levels. Moreover, in the present boom there are some uneasy parallels with the late 'twenties which should curb any tendency to self-congratulation.

Question of Truman Stand

All this raises a question about the political stance to be taken by the president in coming months. Self-righteousness will not be enough. Nor will the old appeals to pride and prejudice suffice.

On their side of the fence responsible Republicans are likely to find their work cut out for them in restraining the wild-eyed irresponsibles in their own party. Irresponsibility unlimited can produce a strong reaction of disgust and resentment.

In this connection responsible Republicans should be feeling twinges of conscience about how some of their new colleagues got elected. We have heard in the past about money frauds in election campaigns. But there was another kind of fraud practiced this year, shockingly illustrated by the kind of faked photographs circulated by the Republicans in Maryland purporting to show Senator Millard Tydings in conversation with Earl Browder, former Communist party head.

The American voter in the last election reacted against the arrogance of men like John L. Lewis, who threatened to call a strike in any mine which Senator Taft visited. That insults the sense of fair play—the fundamental common sense—of the average American. It should be an object lesson for the party long out of power which once again believes that the light at the end of the tunnel is the gleam of ultimate victory.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Christmas lists are beginning to come out. . . . Mr. Truman did want a solid Democratic Congress but his second choice is four billion dollars.

He says that would be quite acceptable at this time but he would like more a little later. . . . Say January.

There do not seem to be any new sources to tap for taxes but business still has color in its cheeks and is believed ready to give another transfusion.

This will be known as the "excess profits tax" . . . "Excess" in this case meaning "you mean to tell me you've still got profits left!"

The idea is to put our armed economy on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. . . . There is no doubt that we will pay as we go but we're not quite sure where we're going.

Last I heard we were in winter quarters in Korea and planning on staying through spring.

There's no telling when other travel literature will arrive.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

James Dugan tells about the time movie executive Bob Goldstein, 140 pounds in his stocking feet, and known in his youth in Arizona as "No-Gun," lost his temper with a he-man actor who towered over him by about two feet. Goldstein suggested, "Let's settle this outside," but friends persuaded the two to shake hands. Later Goldstein boasted, "It's a good thing you fellows stopped us in time. He'd have killed me."

Stanley Walker, ace journalist who now resides in Texas, keeps a file of all the odd names he encounters in the news columns. Some of his favorites (all real people, find you) are: A. Toxen Worm, Fice Mook, Trammer W. Splown, Gulley Cowsert, Buckshot Magonigle, Teemer Furr, Sepnoress Gorce, Phoebe Beebe and Honeysuckle Ginsberg.

The new minister looked at Squire Haas coldly and said, "I'm told you went to the ball game instead of church Sunday." "That's a lie," cried Squire Haas hotly, "and I've got the fish to prove it."

Tomorrow - The World?

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—War-mongering, which is a shadowy enterprise much preached against but seldom left unpracticed in times of stress, has lately emerged into the open marketplace of ideas.

Two Washington papers recently ran editorials in the war-mongering mood. One of these calls for a United Nations (which means a United States) ultimatum to Russia. The other one declares that rather than fight Communist China we might as well fight Russia.

Any close follower of public-affairs oracles will recognize the derivation of these two utterances. Harold Stassen, who from time to time has said almost everything, sprang the ultimatum idea shortly before he switched to the idea of a Big Me mission to Moscow. Winston Churchill some while ago warned us that we should strike at the "heart" rather than at the "tentacles" of the Soviet octopus.

Bring It Into Better Focus

To bring this war-mongering idea into better focus, let us back off from it a bit. Within easy memory, there was Louis Johnson's oft-repeated threats of a five o'clock atomic reprisal, an unmistakable touch of sword-rattling. Much more specific was the speech by Johnson's Secretary of Navy, Francis Matthews, which raised a trial balloon for a "preventive" war. President Roosevelt's methods of "joining" the European War of 1940-41 and his alleged coaxing of Japan to attack us in the Pacific have been the subject of several well-documented books. Earlier in the century, of course, there was T. R. Roosevelt and his followers who favored attacking the Kaiser's Germany and who heaped abuse upon Woodrow Wilson for dallying so long.

At the turn of the century we had a furious newspaper "Remember the Maine" campaign, which preceded and inspired the Spanish-American fracas. In the 1840's a coalition in Congress whipped up the frenzy which antedated the Mexican War. In 1812, as every school child knows, the congressional War Hawks had much to do with pressing mild little President Madison into a tussle with the British Empire.

We arrive, by this brief survey, at a little-recognized fact of our history. Never—well, almost never—have our adversaries chosen to attack us. Much oftener, we have chosen to attack them or to goad them to attack us either to end an inconvenient and humiliating situation—like the Stamp Act—or to accomplish some purpose—like independence, freedom of the seas, the annexation of Texas or victory for our natural allies.

Little Reason For Russian Attack

Today, with Russia getting what she wants by means of cold war and local insurrections, there is little reason for her to attack us. But there are good reasons for us to attack her in order to end a situation which finds us spending billions for foreign aid and uselessly slaying Koreans and Chinese.

There is another fact writ large in the story of American war-mongering. This shadowy enterprise is never merely the expression of blood thirst or a desire to live by the sword. It is an expression of foreign policy which is either pre-existent or in the making. When the policy has been pre-existent and reasonably selfish, we have done quite well. This was true when we laid out our purposes in the Declaration of Independence. It was true when we fought Mexico for the well-recognized purpose of annexing the Republic of Texas. But when the policy was only in the making—that is, when we went to war with no clear idea of how we intended to profit, whether by seizing 13 colonies from England or some disputed territory from Mexico—the results have been fuzzy and without finality.

Certainly President McKinley did not plan a Caribbean-Pacific Empire when he engaged to fight Spain. The results were that we got stuck with possessions which were an embarrassment. President Wilson had little but slogans—"a world safe for Democracy"—as our purpose in World War I, and the League of Nations came to nothing. President Roosevelt's inability to see or to demand American self-interests served only to strengthen Russia and weaken the U.S.

Never Seem To Achieve Purpose

War-mongers we have today, as in the past, but which of them is offering the follow-up plan that might make World War III worth starting? Is it not enough to mention such generalities as "peace," "security" and "democracy." Oddly enough, when wars are fought for such vague purposes, the purposes never seem to be achieved. Wilson's idealism brought about the depression in this country and set up a number of dictatorships in Europe. Roosevelt's cloudy democracy has brought results which need not be listed here. But Stalin, who knew what he wanted and has never been vague or unselfish about it, has been the big winner up till now.

We may very well have to start another war. If we win, we will be in virtual possession of the world. But does anybody know what we're going to do with it?

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

If a good fairy came along and offered you ONE gift—which would you choose?

That was the question we discussed at a friend's fireside last night.

We had finished our Canasta, and it was too early to go home.

So, as at many friendly gatherings, when there is nothing else to do, we sat around and talked.

Somebody said he would ask the good fairy for POWER. He was a business executive.

His wife chose WEALTH. With money, she said, one could do SO much good. (However, earlier in the evening I had heard her complain that her mink coat was getting shabby and, with things being as they are, he would not buy her a new one.)

A third guest, a young artist, wanted FAME.

A fourth, a spinster, would ask for LOVE. (She meant BEING loved.)

Others wanted health, talent, children.

Then they asked me.

As usual, I had been low man at Canasta all evening, so they probably expected me to say that I would ask the fairy to teach me how to play cards.

I disappointed them.

Of all the gifts in this world, I told my friends, I would ask the good fairy to give me HOPE.

That seemed an unusual request, my friends thought, when I could choose so many more useful gifts such as they had mentioned.

"Why do you want HOPE?" asked the young artist.

"Give me fulfillment, not just HOPE," said the practical business man. "I want something I can use—like POWER."

"Try and cash HOPE at any store," said the woman who had complained about her mink coat.

"I have been HOPING for love for years," said the spinster.

I told them that WISHES are the logs with which to build the fire, but HOPE is the fuel which keeps it alive.

The artist's desire for FAME was based on his HOPE that he would be able enough to achieve it.

The business man would not ask the fairy for POWER unless it was his HOPE that some day he would achieve it.

The woman's longing for WEALTH was simply an expression of her HOPE that some day she would have it and could get that new mink coat.

And would the spinster—knowing that there IS no such thing as a good fairy—want to ask for LOVE if she did not HOPE that some day it would come to her?

Every achievement in this world is based on hope. The farmer sows his seed hoping that there will be a good harvest. The boy proposes to the girl hoping that she will marry him. The applicant for a job hopes that he will get it. The mother brings up her children hoping that they will some day do her honor.

We hope that tomorrow will be a fine day. If the present is dark we hope for a brighter future.

The clock struck midnight. It was time to go home.

And as we left, the hostess said "Good night, and we HOPE to see you soon again."

Brannan Calls For Effort To Improve Lot Of Peasants

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Brannan farm plan is not dead—at least as far as the top brass of the Agriculture department is concerned.

Agriculture Secretary Brannan holds firm to the belief that the recent congressional elections did not show just what the nation's farmers thought of the Brannan plan.

Brannan also says he is not "intimidated" by demands that he resign as head of one of the nation's biggest government agencies. Since, and even before, the elections cries have gone up from various quarters for Brannan's scalp because of the controversy his plan stirred up.

The secretary's right hand man, recently appointed undersecretary, Clarence J. McCormick, of Indiana, is continuing in publicizing features of the Brannan plan in speeches he is making.

McCormick's speeches follow closely to the pattern of talks Brannan himself has given.

The undersecretary, addressing a meeting of the New Jersey production and marketing administration the other day, said that government production payments to farmers for perishable commodities are needed to clear up "real weaknesses" in the nation's farm programs.

The production payment angle of the Brannan plan is not new and was not originated in the plan, but Secretary Brannan, and McCormick too, thoroughly believe that production payments are necessary to assure farmers a good price when market pirces are falling.

Under the production payment deal, farmers get a federal payment to make up the difference between a support level and any lower average market prices. Perishables such as meat, milk and eggs would be included. They would be permitted to venture forth in the free market to seek their own supply and demand levels.

Forecast British Meat Ration Cut

LONDON. — (INS) — Leaders of Britain's meat trade forecast a cut in the meat ration unless the Anglo-Argentine meat squabble is settled soon.

Alderman C. Hewson, executive member of the Meat Traders Federation, predicted at a conference that the present ration level of 21 cents per person will drop to 16 cents during winter months, and may eventually be slashed to 14 cents unless the supply position improves.

British meat supplies are at present almost entirely home produced. A big increase in the number of home-raised cattle had enabled the Ministry of Food to build up stocks of frozen meat and thus bolster up the present ration level.

However, such a policy must be short term and without a settlement with Argentina it is not expected in the meat trade that the present ration level can be maintained.

Although there have been optimistic references to more meat from Australian sources, trade leaders see little hope for some years at least of the British Empire replacing Argentina as a major supplier of beef to Britain.

Says Reds Build Wehrmacht Tanks

FRANKFURT. — (INS) — A refugee from the Soviet dominated zone of Germany says the Soviet sponsored Krupp steel plant at Magdeburg is manufacturing new improved types of World War II Wehrmacht tanks.

The refugee, until his flight from the Soviet zone, worked as construction engineer in the Magdeburg Krupp works. He told officials of the Velzen refugee camp in the British zone, that 13,000 workers are feverishly building improved types of the "King Tiger," Germany's most powerful World War II tank.

He further stated that production last month reached a peak of 500 tanks equipped with newly developed armor plates.

However, he said, the tanks are not completely mounted. Instead, parts are carefully created and shipped to an unknown destination.

The refugee enginer did not disclose his identity to protect relatives still living in the Soviet zone.

He saw the factory's armament program — including large scale production of cannon of all calibers from 7.5 to 15 centimeters.

Two Bucknell Athletes Hurt

LEWISBURG, Pa., Nov. 17.—(INS) — Two Bucknell university athletes were injured seriously, Thursday when their skidding automobile crashed into two trees in Lewisburg.

Arnold V. Pechulis, 24, of Baltimore, Md., and Arthur L. Troast, 24, of Passaic, N. J., were reported in the collision which demolished Troast's 1950 sedan.

Pechulis is a member of Bucknell's football squad while Troast is on the baseball team.

The Byzantines were the first people to use liquid fire in warfare.

Mrs. Impellitteri Launches Memorial Heart Fund Campaign

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Mrs. Vincent Impellitteri today took over the general chairmanship of the New York Heart Association's 1951 fund-raising campaign and announced a research fund as a memorial to her predecessor, the late Mrs. Arthur 'Bugs' Baer.

The New York mayor's wife said the heart association immediately will launch a Louise Baer memorial fund with all receipts going to research, special studies and the training of young physicians.

Offers of benefits immediately began pouring in for the memorial for Mrs. Baer, wife of the International News Service columnist, who died of a heart attack at her home early Tuesday.

Snuff was first used in medicinal capacity.

Noted Church Leader Will Speak Sunday

MRS. JOHN M. IRVINE

Mrs. John M. Irvine, former president of the National Council of Presbyterian Women, will be heard in First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson street, Sunday, November 19, at 11 a.m. during the annual praise service of the church.

The speaker who was a delegate of the Presbyterian Church U.S.A., to the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam in 1948, visited in Hungary and Czechoslovakia observing work done there in churches through American aid. She was elected in 1946 to the position of president of the National Council.

Mrs. Irvine has served as president of the Presbyterial Society of the Presbytery of Jersey City. She has been residing since 1945 in Pittsburgh. She comes to the city with a wealth of experience and a great knowl lge of the work of the Presbyterian Church. Her deep spirituality, modest manner and thorough knowledge of the work appeals to all. Her message will be especially interesting to all Christian women.

Local Delegates Will Attend Older Boys' Conference

Hi-Y clubs of local high schools will send delegates to an older boys' conference to be held this week end at Johnstown.

Dick Pitzer and Don Wingfield will represent Union township; Francis McGary and Harry Jermakawicz, Shenango township; Dave Lewis and Bob Britton, New Castle senior high; Richard Kerr, Washington junior high school; Don Burdette, Franklin junior high school, and Morris Mitchell, the Shenango YMCA branch.

Three hundred delegates from central, south and Pittsburgh districts of Pennsylvania are expected to be present at this conference.

John Thompson, boys' work secretary, and David Gatrall, program director of the Y, will accompany the delegates from New Castle.

Artificial Fiber Outdoes Horsehair

CORVALLIS, Ore.—(INS)—The wild horses of Argentina will soon face technological unemployment as a new artificial fiber, Caslen, replaces horsehair for stuffing upholstery.

Caslen, a milk-byproduct, has several advantages over curled horsehair as an upholstery stuffer, according to Miss Myrtle Carter, Oregon State College extension home furnishings specialist.

The new fiber is cheaper, cleaner, and has a controllable diameter and staple length. It is non-alergic and may be treated to give mildew, moth and bacteria resistance.

Curled horsehair, standard as an upholstery stuffer for centuries, is produced by a laborious and time consuming process. Most of it is imported from Argentina where wild horses are rounded up and given a haircut.

Miss Carter says the chief difficulty with the natural upholstery material is that the Argentina wild horses seem to be becoming more scarce and the quality of the hair has been going down.

Present output of Caslen is restricted to stuffing furniture and bedding. The material is expected to have a wide variety of uses in the future. The uncurled form, for example, may be blended into textiles to produce novel effects.

Calsen is first produced as a ropelike roving about 80 feet long. The roving is softened by steam, wound tightly by hand and then hung for six months to acquire a permanent curl. When the length is torn apart, the fiber has the two desirable upholstery characteristics of softness and springiness.

Foreign Broadcasts Are Halted In Iran

TEHRAN, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Relays of foreign broadcasts, including programs of the Voice of America and the British Broadcasting Corporation in the Persian language, were halted Thursday by the Iranian government.

The Iranian press said the action was taken after criticism by the Voice of America of a recent Soviet-Iranian trade agreement and Russian personalities.

Daily programs previously had been relayed by the Iranian state radio station.

Western diplomatic quarters viewed the action as a new gesture of friendship toward Iran's northern neighbor.

(The State department in Washington said it had not been informed of a halt in the rebroadcasts.)

WHAT LEGION WILL DO IN 1951

ERLE COCKE, JR., national commander of the American Legion, presents President Truman with the Legion's 1951 action programs, outlined at recent 32nd national convention in Los Angeles, on Cocke's first official call at the White House. At 29 Cocke is youngest national commander in the organization's history. (International)

Army Denies Any Shortage Of Winter Clothing In Korea

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Army issued a detailed and itemized denial that there is any general shortage or inadequacy of winter clothing for American troops in Korea.

The winter issue was described as "sufficient to keep in comfort a man who is exposed continually, day and night, in sub-zero weather."

An Army supply officer said that 500,000 pairs of "shoepac" boots, 400,000 of them shipped from the states, are available in the Far East.

1. Winter clothing was issued to all large troop units between October 1 and 15. If any of the troops still have summer clothing, it is because they outran the supply lines of their own units.

2. The winter issue includes sleeping bags and Arctic parkas where they may be needed.

3. All requisitions from troop units for additional winter items have been filled.

4. In a "very few" cases where substitutions had to be made for the usual winter issue, the substitutions were approved by the Far East command.

The general issue was described as "wet-cold combat clothing," including the following:

For the upper part of the body—wool undershirt, wool flannel shirt, high neck sweater and pile jacket; for the lower part of the body—wool under drawers and wool serge trousers; for the head—cotton cap with visor and wool-lined ear flap; for the feet—"Shoepac" boots, a leather and rubber footgear developed since World War Two.

Newspapers In Pittsburgh Will Resume Saturday

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Publication of Pittsburgh's three daily newspapers will be resumed tomorrow following a strike that left the steel city newspaperless for 47 days.

The way was cleared for resumption of publication last night when publishers and officers of 10 non-striking newspaper unions agreed to submit the question of back pay for union members made jobless by the strike to binding arbitration.

Earlier, the striking AFL Mailers union and the AFL Teamsters local 211 came to terms with publishers on new contracts.

The newspapers were shut down October 1 when the mailers quit in a wage dispute. A total of about 3,000 newspaper employes were idled by the walkout.

Most of the newspaper employes will report back to work today to prepare for publication tomorrow.

U.S. Savings Bonds Sales Increased

Sales of U. S. savings bonds in Lawrence County for October totalled $265,359.25 a report of the U. S. Treasury department showed today.

Of this total, $356,261 was in "E" bonds, $6,031 in "F" bonds and $28,900 in "G" bonds. Bond sales have shown an upward curve since July over the state. The state total of bond sales for October was $30,926,605.

KING'S DAUGHTERS PLAN YULE PARTY

Members of the King's Daughters Bible class gathered on Thursday, at 1 o'clock, and sat down to a sumptuous dinner in First Methodist church, with 12 present, and Mrs. Carl Nelson, a visitor. Mrs. Ira Fulkerson gave the invocation.

Committee in charge was Mrs. Carrie Griner, Mrs. Mabel Sampson, and Mrs. W. R. Wallace.

The business session was in charge of president, Mrs. J. N. Kerr. Mrs. W. A. Taylor led the devotions and conducted an interesting and instructive period on questions on "God's Promises".

Committee reports were received. It was decided to donate food to the Rescue Mission for Thanksgiving, also to send a gift to Margaret Henry Home.

Mrs. Frank Fischer conducted a memorial service for Mrs. Harry Black; also presented a picture to the class in memory of Mrs. A. M. McCallen. In response ot roll call each member gave a poem or reading by Mrs. Griner.

Next meeting will be in the form of a Christmas party, with time and place to be later announced.

U.S.W.V. AUXILIARY PLANS YULE PARTY

Ladies auxiliary 52 of the United Spanish War Veterans and their camp members gathered in the Legion Home recently for a tureen dinner at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Edna Vaughn gave the invocation. Co-hostesses of the event were Mrs. Martha Carr and Mrs. Katie Scott. Special guests were past department president Mrs. Cora Mahuney of Franklin, Mrs. Anna Mancino and Mrs. Harriett Hetrick, both of New Castle.

At 8 o'clock a business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Emma Wood, who welcomed the guests. An inspection of the work of the auxiliary was made by the regional officer, Mrs. Mahuney.

Two new members were initiated and plans were made for a Christmas party to be held December 11 in the Legion Home. Husbands will be special guests of the occasion.

Section A Quilts

Section A of the Y. L. B. class of Third UP. P. church had an all day quilting Thursday at the home of Mrs. James Gorman, East Washington street. Mrs. Maude Ralston of Portersville was a special guest.

After luncheon was served at noon by the hostess with Mrs. Norman McConnell as an aide, Mrs. Gorman led devotions.

Tentative plans were made for a holiday party in December.

CALVARY MISSIONARY FELLOWSHIP MEETS

Women's Missionary Fellowship of the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, were pleasingly entertained in the home of Mrs. Jennie Phillips, Ryan avenue, Thursday evening. Mrs. Nellie Taylor served as co-hostess to the group.

The Thanksgiving theme was used with hymns of thanks sung. Fourteen answered to roll call with a Scripture verse. A letter was read from a missionary in Virginia, Miss Helen Eveland, whom the group helps to support. It was reported that the missionary society had canned 100 quarts of apple-butter for the City Rescue Mission.

During the evening, Mrs. Melba Clark reviewed several chapters on the Mormonism book which the group is studying. Lunch was served by the hostess and co-hostess, assisted by Mrs. Clara Bailey and Miss Phyllis Phillips. On December 14, Mrs. Clara Bailey of Ryan avenue will entertain, with Mrs. Anna Mooney as co-hostess.

GARDEN COUNCIL TO HAVE YULETIDE SHOW

Mrs. Wallace Wright, chairman of flower shows for the Garden Council of Lawrence county, announces that the annual Christmas display will be held December 11 and 12 in the Guild room of Trinity Episcopal church.

Mrs. Robert Lamoree is co-chairman of the event.

JUNIOR GUILD HAS MEETING AT CHURCH

Junior Guild of St. Andrews Chapel was entertained Tuesday, November 14, in the guild room of the church.

A delicious turkey dinner was served in honor of the 20th anniversary of the guild. The tables were gaily decorated with centerpieces of yellow mums and autumn leaves. Yellow candles in candelabra were on either side. Rev. Addison Groff was a special guest and gave the invocation.

A short business meeting followed with Mrs. David Riley presiding. Plans were completed for the parish supper to be held November 30.

Program committee for the evening included Mrs. Fred Feil, Mrs. Warren Van Horn and Mrs. Adam Leishman. On the decorating committee were Mrs. Edwin Ayres, Mrs. Joseph Wilkinson and Mary Beth Ayres.

INES EZZELL FETED AT BRIDAL SHOWER

Miss Ines Ezzell, bride-elect of this month, was feted at a shower when her mother, Mrs. G. C. Ezzell, was hostess to a group of friends in her home, R. D. 2, Camden avenue.

The bride-elect was presented with an array of appropriate gifts. Later in the evening lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Thelma.

Miss Ezzell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ezzell, will become the bride of Paul Fronius, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fronius, 519 Waldo street, Nov. 18, at 7:30 o'clock.

The bride has chosen as her only attendent, her sister, Mrs. Rhoda Jenkins. Andrew Fronius, Jr., will serve his brother as best man.

ITALIAN MOTHERS DINNER ENJOYED

Members of the Italian Mothers club enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner Thursday evening at 7 o'clock when they gathered in the green room of the YWCA. The tables were nicely arranged in the appropriate motif, and miniature turkeys marked each place.

Afterwards a business meeting was held and reports received. Plans were made for a Christmas dinner on December 23, with an exchange to be held. Plans were also discussed to help a needy family.

The committee in charge of last evening's dinner included: Mrs. Lena Julian, Mrs. Jean DelCastello, Mrs. Yolanda Flamino, Mrs. Olga Ezzo, Mrs. Virginia Nocera and Mrs. Stephanie Scarnati.

December 7 is the meeting with Mrs. Frances Roman, Mrs. Teresa Armundo and Mrs. Lena Vericelli as co-hostesses.

GERALDINE FEE SHOWER HONOREE

A lovely dinner party and shower honored Miss Geraldine Fee, bride-elect of November 25, on Wednesday evening when her co-workers at the Bossert company gathered at New Wilmington for the occasion.

The group later presented Miss Fee with a useful and attractive gift for her new home.

Games provided the evening's activity, with prizes going to Miss Donna Hogue, Miss Doris Devido and Miss Fee.

The prospective bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Fee, 401 West Washington street, and her fiance, William Snyder, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Snyder, Sumner avenue.

The open church ceremony will be performed on Saturday, November 25 in St. Mary's church.

Jolly Twelve Gather

Mrs. Oliver Hooper of Hemlock street welcomed members of the Jolly Twelve club into her home on Thursday. A luncheon was served to the group at one o'clock, and the afternoon was spent informally.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas dinner to be held at a local tearoom with the date to be announced later.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Albert Perkins, 17 Round street, December 7. A Christmas party will highlight the event, with gifts to be exchanged by the members.

Find Punch-Boards In Parked Auto

Policeman Peter Hillers today detained one Nicholas Occibone, South Liberty street in Sycamore street.

The policeman was putting a ticket for violation of the parking law on the car Occibone drove, when his eyes reposed on some punch-boards, hence the arrest.

At police headquarters Occibone said he had borrowed the car from his brother-in-law, Frank Criscito of 606 Pearson street.

Criscito, when notified, went to police station.

Occibone was discharged. Criscito posted a bond of $25 pending a hearing on a charge of possessing punch boards.

To Present Union High Play Tonight

This evening at 8:15 o'clock the curtain will go up on the Junior-Senior play at Union High school.

The three-act comedy to be presented by students is "Beauty and the Beef," by William Davidson. Great interest has been shown in this presentation. According to reports the players have whipped their parts into great shape and will present a hilarious story that revolves around a football story filled with surprises.

Mrs. Helen King is the play director. Leading roles are being taken care of by Phyllis Phillips and Kenny McPheeters. A large cast will support the players.

Those who will attend are assured of several hours of good entertainment, filled with merriment and good laughs.

During the intermission the Union High band under the direction of James W. James will offer selections.

Hospital Auxiliary Will Meet Monday

New Castle Hospital Auxiliary will have a special meeting Monday at 1:30 p. m., in the nurses home.

Further plans will be discussed for the spaghetti dinner, scheduled for Thursday, November 30, at the Cathedral.

President of the Auxiliary is Mrs. William Strawbridge.

Ohio Authorities Trail Molestor

Youngstown authorities have provided New Castle police with the auto license number of a Lawrence county man who allegedly molested school girls in Youngstown. The owner of the car which bears the license number will be given to the Ohio police.

Mrs. S. S. Harris Is Taken By Death

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Sarah Stiglitz Harris of 7442 Kipling avenue, Detroit, Mich., which occurred on Wednesday.

Mrs. Harris has several children surviving. Burial took place today in Detroit.

Scout Executive Speaks At YWCA Staff Meeting

J. C. Hildebrand, Boy Scout executive, and his co-worker, J. D. Lawson, were guests at the bi-monthly meeting of the YWCA staff Thursday morning.

The meeting opened with brunch at 9:15 o'clock with Mrs. Gladys McClurg, house director, serving as hostess. Mr. Hildebrand spoke informally afterwards on national, regional and local structure of the Boy Scouts of America.

Principles of group work are the same in scouting as in the YWCA but otherwise many differences exist. It was about these differences that staff members questioned Mr. Hildebrand and Mr. Lawson from time to time. A feature of outstanding interest to the YW staff was the intensive research and training program for leadership promoted by the national organization.

After the talks the staff followed its regular schedule of giving departmental reports and discussing problems and plans held in common by all. Plans were made by the staff for a Christmas party to be held on the next meeting day, Thursday, December 7, at 10 o'clock.

All staff, including professional, clerical and maintenance from both the central and branch YW's will be included. Each one will bring a ten cent present and Miss Marguita Fox, teen-age director, will have charge of a clever plan for distribution of the gifts. She and Miss Shirley Webber will lead carol singing. Guests will include Mrs. Roy A. Long, president; Mrs. James W. Moorehead, president in 1949, and Thomas Outhwaite, janitor in the YWCA for 25 years. He is now retired from work in the YW but is daily at his post in the news stand at the cornert of Washington and Jefferson streets.

Family Altar Staff At Leesburg Rally

An interesting program has been planned for Saturday evening at the Leesburg Youth for Christ rally in the Leesburg Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock. The Family Altar staff of Apollo, Pa., will be on hand to present the program.

Rev. Cecil Clifton will head the program and serve as chairman. The radio staff will be presenting an entire program of music and speaking. Included will be vocal solos, duets, trios and many instrumental selections.

Hi-Y Club Hears Byron McConnell

The Washington Hi-Y club, meeting at the YMCA last night had as guest speaker, Byron McConnell of radio station WKST, who talked of his recent bear hunting trip, and told of amusing incidents which took place while broadcasting sports events from Taggart Stadium with Harry Reith.

The Hi-Y club also decided to prepare Thanksgiving baskets for needy families of the community.

Last night's program was planned by Jim Johnson, Dick Gilbert and Fred Kahrer.

The next meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 21 at Washington Junior high school.

Women's Circle Meets For Tea

Musical Program And Travel Slides Shown

Members of the Junior Women's Circle of Mahoning Methodist church gathered on Thursday evening in the church, when all the women of the church were invited to participate in a tea, in the dining room.

A program was presented by Mrs. Betty Gibson and Mrs. Martha Miller.

Guest soloist was Miss Margaret Sutton of Chautauqua Opera chorus, accompanied by Miss Jessie Mockel, of this city, director of the Chautauqua chorus.

Mrs. Lawrence Shaffer was the speaker, and showed picture slides of her and husband's trip in the western states showing the points of interest.

A splendid lunch was served to about a hundred women. Committee of arrangements was Mrs. Jessie Sowers, Mrs. Jean Jolley and aides.

Next meeting of the group will be Thursday evening, December 14, at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Blasdell, of West Madison avenue; co-hostess will be Mrs. Manneetta Sitler; speaker will be Mrs. Agnes Waddell.

Girl Scouts Work On Dramatic Badge

On Thursday afternoon, the Girl Scouts Troop No. 30, met in Mt. Jackson high school, after school sessions. Mrs. Thomas Martin and Mrs. Margaret Hammond were in charge.

June Wharry led in the opening exercises. There was salute to the flag, and repeating the Girl Scout Promise and Laws, after which there was a short song period, conducted by Janet Kildo.

The business session was in charge of June Wharry, when there were reports from the secretary and treasurer.

Remainder of meeting, the girls worked on the troop dramatic badge. Meeting closed with the Friendship Circle and the singing of Taps.

Girl Scouts 60 Have Good Attendance

At Mahoning school, Girl Scout Troop No. 60 assembled on Wednesday evening, with 17 girls in attendance, and three leaders, Mrs. John Porter, Mrs. Earl Ruehle, and Mrs. Howard Culbertson, committeewoman.

Rose Daugherty, president, had charge of the business session. Mrs. Earl Ruehle gave further instructions for identifying the stars.

Next meeting Wednesday evening, November 22, at 7:30.

Junior Basketball Team Arranges Games

Rees Flannery, teacher at Mahoning school, states that basketball schedule for Junior high team is being set up.

On December 19, at Bessemer, they will play Bessemer junior high; on December 22, Shenango juniors, at Shenango high school.

There will be an entirely new team; all last year's team has stepped up; Donald Runyan, Don Henderson, Carmen Russo, Anthony Martino are in high school, and Charles and Andrew Mangino have been transferred to Ben Franklin high.

A number of the school windows in the annex and main building are decorated for Thanksgiving season, and several classes are now preparing for Thanksgiving performances next week.

Will Meet Saturday In Effort To Avert Television Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Officials of the AFL Televisoin Authority and the networks meet in New York again tomorrow in an effort to settle a wage demand dispute that threatens a country-wide TV strike.

The strike, which union spokesmen say will affect 25,000 persons in TV from "Milton Berle and Arthur Godfrey on down," has been authorized but orders for an actual walkout have been held in abeyance while settlement talks go on.

A similar strike threat exists in the radio industry, in which 30,000 members of the American Federation of Radio Artists, AFL, also seek pay boosts. Negotiations are continuing.

Rural Women Have Yule Meet

Christmas Ideas Are Exhibited

Lawrence County home economics groups met at the East New Castle grange hall, Thursday, for an all day meeting in preparation for Christmas, when Christmas ideas were exhibited by the different groups.

Each woman brought her own lunch which was enjoyed at the noon hour, with the women of the Castlewood club serving coffee.

At the morning session, the program opened with the women from Plaingrove presenting an exhibit of children's toys. The Pleasant Hill club from North Beaver township offered gift suggestions; and the Moravia club from North Beaver, demonstrated door decorations and gift ideas. Grant City and Slippery Rock township women, exhibited Christmas party favors; and Hickory township women offered ideas for Christmas entertainment for three different age groups, the children, teenage, and adult.

Holiday Decorations Shown

At the afternoon session, Christmas tree decorations were shown by the Washington township group. Little Beaver women exhibited doorway decorations; and the women from Wilmington township showed decorations for the mantle.

The Lawrence County Agricultural Extension office force, showed the proper and safe way for using candles at the Christmas season.

The different groups presented their ideas and set up the exhibits on the stage, offering comments on the construction and use of their particular exhibit.

There were 140 women from the rural district in attendance and the meeting probed a most enjoyable and instructive one.

Private Richard L. White, paratrooper, son of Mrs. Arley E. White, and brother of David White of 427 Neshannock avenue, New Castle, has returned to Fort Bragg, North Carolina, after spending a fifteen day furlough at his home.

Among the visitors from other counties attending the reunion of the New Castle Consistory are B. W. Evans, Jr., Edward A. Dietz, Thomas C. Koelbel and Jack Ryan of Beaver, Pa. They are guests of James G. Wheeler of the East Brook road.

Albert King of 817 Butler avenue, who has been confined to the Jameson Memorial hospital for a number of weeks, remains in about the same condition.

Miss Dorothy Shearer and Mr. and Mrs. William Hunt and children, Sharon Lee and Billy of this city, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Drake, of Volant.

Mrs. Mary Kerr, formerly of 212 Pearson street, has been taken to the Hammond Nursing home at No. 1, Front street, where she is recovering nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Slavonsky and daughter, Maxine Paula, of South Mercer street, attended the Bar Mitzvah of Melvin Jay Solomon, son of Mr. and Ms. Israel Solomon, formerly of New Castle. The services was held at the Agudath Bnai Israel Temple, Lorain, O. Melvin Jay is a grand nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Slavonsky. Also attending the Bar Mitzvah were Mr. and Mrs. Eph Solomon and sons Edward and Howard, Blaine street; Ben Solomon, Pennsylvania avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Rosenberg, Highland avenue; and Mr. and Mrs. William Markowitz, of Reynolds street.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Price of 517 Electric street, have returned from Philadelphia, where Mr. Price underwent a very serious operation at Jefferson Memorial hospital, five weeks ago. The right lung was affected. Coy is improving slowly, but is unable yet to receive friends.

Mrs. Charles Bluedorn of East Brook, has suffered a fractured wrist, in a fall at her home.

Mrs. George Patterson of East Brook, is confined to her home, with illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor and family of Cleveland, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McKee of East Brook.

SING STRIKE

BELFAST — (INS) — Fifty girls went on strike at a Belfast bakery because their boss refused to let them sing while they worked. But the strike was soon settled. In the future, the girls will be allowed to hum.

Nurses' Registry Group Has Meeting

Members of the Nurses' Professional Registry held a meeting at the Y. W. C. A., recently.

A short business meeting was held followed by a social time, after which games were played. Mrs. Sara Land won the door prize.

A discussion of a fund-raising event to be held in the near future took place.

The group decided to discontinue meetings until after the holidays.

HAVE SCALDING WATER RIGHT TEMPERATURE

Temperature of the scalding water affects the ease of plucking turkeys or chickens and their dressed appearance, according to Charles Davis, of the Pennsylvania State College. If the scalding water is too hot the skin may acquire a cooked appearance, tear easily, and turn red or brown after the carcass becomes dry.

Various degrees of water temperature can be used but 150 to 160 degrees is hot enough to loosen the feathers thoroughly. That range in water temperature is obtained by using 2 gallons of boiling water 212 degrees F. (rolling in the kettle) and 1 gallon of cold water about 55 degrees F. This is a practical temperature which will not cook the skin but will leave it strong, and the feathers, pin feathers, hairs, and scurf on the skin can be rubbed off in one operation.

For a good plucking job on a well-finished bird semi-scalding produces a popular appearance carcass. To semi-scald the water temperatures range from 124 to 132 degrees Fahrenheit. Those temperatures will loosen the feathers well enough so they can be pulled out in tufts, but will not scald the outer cuticle of the skin to make it shaff or pull off. Birds that are semi-scalded should be free from pin feathers, unless a plucking machine is available to remove the feathers and pin feathers. Where using the semi-scald, move the bird in the water for 30 seconds or more.

Properly semi-scalded carcasses retain a fresh-looking appearance for a longer time and the skin does not turn brown when it becomes dry. Always use a thermometer in semi-scalding, because the water temperatures must be well controlled. For average farm conditions when birds have pin feathers, broken plumage, and water temperatures cannot be accurately controlled, the proportions of about two parts of boiling water and 1 part of cold water are more practical. A circular "Dressing Poultry" may be obtained by request from the Agricultural Extension Association, 206 Post Office Bldg., New Castle, Pa.

PLACE BAIT TO KILL MICE IN ORCHARDS

Placing of poisoned bait under established bait stations in the orchard to kill mice is recommended by fruit specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. One of the best baits to use is strychnine-treated wheat. It can be used as soon as dry and will make a good kill if carefully placed under the bait stations where the mice have already gathered.

Directions for making the bait and for distributing are included in the Pennsylvania Satte College circular of the Extension Department "Protecting Pennsylvania Orchards Against Mice, Deer, and Rabbits." This publication may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

HOW TO MAKE SHEETS LAST LONGER

Long wear from sheets begins when you buy carefully, selecting the kind best fitted to your needs.

Sheets wear longer if they are turned often so that the narrow hem is at the head of the bed and the wide hem at the foot. Greatest wear on a sheet is rubbed by the shoulders of the person sleeping on it.

Mattress pads protect both the mattress and sheets.

Avoid snags and tears in sheets by smoothing any rough places on the bedstead or ends and corners of bed springs.

Don't use sheets for laundry bags. Strong bleaches in the laundry will weaken sheet fibers. Be sure to rinse sheets thoroughly. Put them through the wringer straight and folded evenly. In this way the threads will not be strained and deep wrinkles that must be pressed out will be avoided.

On windy days do not allow sheets to hang on the line after they are dry. Strong breezes will weaken the hem line of sheets when the are allowed to blow in the wind. Avoid putting the crease in the same place every time when you press or fold sheets. Ironing a fold down the center of sheets tends to break threads along the crease. An iron that is too hot will also injure bed linens.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Humphrey were visitors at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. W. Humphrey in New Castle on Thursday.

State Police Say:

Complaints have been received from all over the county that some drivers are failing to comply with the "School Bus Stop Law." This would indicate that some of our drivers have not taken the time to familiarize themselves with the provisions of this very important new law. The law was enacted to provide greater protection for our school children, and requires all motorists to come to a full stop under certain conditions where a school bus is stopped to take on or discharge school children. In any case where there is a question as to whether or not you should stop—stop and be on the safe side.

Ball Club Sued By Former Owner

Cannavino Charges Claims Not Settled

In an action filed by the former owner, Mike Cannavino and two associates, the New Castle baseball club, incorporated as New Castle Citizens' Baseball, Inc., is sued for $5,000. It is also claimed the original incorporation has never been dissolved.

The amount is claimed to represent two notes of $2,200 each and other claims, said to be unsettled in violation of the agreement entered into when the team franchise was tranferred to New Castle men.

The action is filed by New Castle Professional Baseball, Inc., Anthony Dedad, Anthony Tonti, and Mike Cannavino against William F. DeCarbo, Edward Smeahle, Anthony Conn, Frank Moretti, and New Castle Citizens' Baseball, Inc.

It is claimed that on April 1, 1950, the franchise of the New Castle baseball team was owned by Mr. Cannavino and others in Erie. Negotiations for the transfer were discussed by the plaintiffs with Rocky Vitale and Art Prioletti. The defenants were to raise sufficient money to clear all debts against the team. Some $13,000 was raised. Attorney Charles V. Ross was paid a fee of $100 by the plaintiffs to dissolve the incorporation and the balance of the fee was to be paid by the defendants. It is claimed the original incorporation was never dissolved.

It is also claimed there are two notes each $2,200 in size which have never been paid. The plaintiffs claim $5,000.

ASKS DIVISION OF PROPERTY

Nellie Vesco files a suit against her former husband, Paul Vesco, asking that a property in Union township, now in joint title be divided. The plaintiff now of Los Angeles, California, says the property was bought by her and her husband. Later they were divorced.

INJURED, NOT DEAD

In Wednesday's column it was said that Joseph Slamon, driver of a Coca Cola truck had been killed in an accident near Stumps' Corners. This was in error. Mr. Slamon was badly injured but is still living.

ELECTION EXPENSES

No accounts of election expenses have been filed with the county commissioners. Candidates and parties have 30 days after an election to file these accounts and this time is not up until December 7.

ASKS VIEWERS

Harriet J. Eckles of Wilmington township has filed a petition with the court asking that viewers be appointed to assess damages to her property, due to a highway development.

Wyoming Professor Makes Rare Music

LARAMIE, Wyo.—(INS)—Robert Becker, associate professor of music at the University of Wyoming, owns an ancient musical instrument few residents of the Rocky Mountain region have ever seen—a viola d'amore.

Becker, back on the campus after a year's leave of absence spent in Europe, learned to play the 14-string instrument while he was in Paris with his wife and son.

The viola d'amore, a predecessor of the violin, has seven strings beneath the seven top ones which are played with the bow, to give resonance to the sound produced by the instrument.

The instrument, which is from the family of violins, received its name from the position of the set of strings. Said Becker, "They were thought of as 'two hearts beating as one,' or the viola of love."

Becker spent the winter in Paris studying music with the French composer, Darious Milhaud, who has visited the University of Wyoming several times. Becker also took a course in conducting at the Paris conservatory.

Indian Knows Her Figures

LONDON—(INS)—A 19-year-old Indian girl who can handle long columns of figures faster than a comptometer—and all in her head—is scheduled to demonstrate her uncanny ability soon in the United States.

Shakuntala Devi, daughter of uneducated parents in India, arrived in London recently to perform at a shown given in aid of victims of the recent earthquakes and floods in Assam. She said she expects to remain in London three months and then proceed to the U. S.

Shakuntala, a mathematical prodigy since the age of five, has affidavits from the University of Mysore attesting her ability to figure cubes, fourth, fifth and even seventh roots mentally in a matter of seconds.

The girl told International News service she and her family first became aware of her faculty when a cousin, a mathematics student, came to visit them in India. Shakuntala worked out his most difficult problems for him, without aid of pencil or paper.

"I don't know how I do it," the girl said. "No one else does either. I just do it."

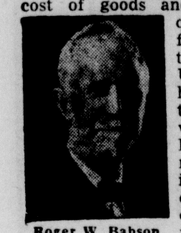
Prices And Profits Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1950—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 17.—The uneasy international situation plus a continuing rise in the cost of goods and services has quite naturally focused attention on profits. Unfortunately, it has also revived the dangerous widespread belief, big business and little is profiting excessively at the expense of wageworkers.



Roger W Babson

Loose Talk Is Confusing

It is perfectly true that there are firms which do profit unduly at the expense of their employes and the general public, just as there are some individuals ever ready to lie, cheat and steal. But the recent record of American business generally in this regard is an honorable one worthy of defense. Yet, when costs go up, our first impulse is to blame the greedy manufacturer because we believe he is taking advantage of us.

Labor unions then take up the cry of "excess profits" as they agitate for higher wages. Meanwhile, an ever growing share of the really substantial profits of American business is being drained off by government in the form of federal, state and local tax levies. If even one-half of the time, money and energy which government, management and labor spend in foolishly antagonizing each other were to be spent in a united effort to curb waste and increase production we would soon have a far higher standard of living than we now enjoy.

Stockholders Are Human

Tht truth is Uncle Sam has now become so adept at piling tax upon tax—and squandering so much of the money which he takes in—that the average corporation stockholder is really just another "laboring man". Those who invest their money in common stocks enable companies to produce more efficiently and reduce prices. This further enables these companies to pay fair wages while at the same time to make substantial federal and local tax contributions.

There are times when labor unions have some legitimate complaints, but I know that labor unions are barking up the wrong tree when they attack stockholders as a class. They forget that the ownership of stocks is now pretty well spread over all the elements of our population. In fact, I am certain that the percentage of wageworkers who are actually stockholders is very large. It is no longer rare to find even labor unions investing in industrial stocks; they know that now an additional investment of close to $10,000 is needed to give a new man a job.

Why Blame Manufacturers?

When costs go up, there is a widespread tendency to make manufacturers and storekeepers the scapegoats, just as there is a false notion that the latter receive a disproportionate share of the retail price. Doubtless our distribution system is wasteful in some respects; but it has gone a long way in the creation of mass markets which make possible mass production.

I do wish that more people knew how this distribution system ticks and how much it costs. For example: Bread and a number of other food products cost much more to market than the part of the total retail price to consumers which the farmer, the miller and the baker receive. Everyone should realize that a good slice of the cost of every item consists of taxes, transportaion, rent and salesmen's wages. These expenses are not subject to daily or weekly changes as are raw materials.

A Suggested Remedy

No single group is entirely to blame for high costs and high prices. The chief culprit is government, but we all share in the blame for govenrment's mistakes. Year by year, larger and larger sums of money are being taken away from distributing organizations through taxes. Far too much of this tax money has been and is even now being spent in functions which increase the cost-of-living.

This can lead to the kind of socialism which has put once powerful England in the sorry plight where she is today. This same policy is killing our incentive and will demoralize our whole employment structure if we do not force our political bureaucrats to abandon it. We became a great nation because we were willing to continually invest more money in productive purposes. We were eager to risk our savings because there was hope of profit. We must not permit government to destroy that profit motive, for that would lead to the destruction of the nation itself.

Civil Defense Program Planned For 'Long Haul'

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Civil defense chiefs were told today by a top official that the program is planned for "the long haul".

Maj. Gen. R. K. Mellon, boss of the state's military and civil defense commission, told defense leaders from all sections of the state that the program will be kept alive indefinitely.

It will not be terminated, he added, "as long as a world power seeks to dominate the universe through violence or threats of violence."

The lifetime of the program, Mellon said, can range from one to 50 years.

Gov. James H. Duff pointed to the serious responsibilities of local directors and reminded them that Pennsylvania "is a choice target".

The conferece was held in the forum of the education building at the state capital. Outside the forum was an array of combat equipment from the Indiantown Gap military reservation.

Approximately 750 defense leaders from all sections of the state attended the meeting.

Harry Gold Testifies That Brothman Gave Him Secret Blueprint

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Harry Gold, confessed wartime atom spy for Russia, testified on Thursday in federal court that Abraham Blothman personally handed him a blueprint of secret chemical equpiment for transmission to Moscow.

The blueprint, apparently taken from the firm of Henricks Co., Inc., gave details of a device known as an "esterifier", used for converting solvents.

Gold returned to the witness stand for the second day before Judge Irving H. Kaufman and a jury of seven men and five women to give additional details of the spy ring.

Gold yesterday testified that Blothman was one of his "contacts'" in the espionage set-up, headed by Semen H. Semenov, a Russian trade representative in New York whom he knew only as "Sam". But he did not state that Blothman actually had given him any material.

Blothman, 36, and Miriam Moskowitz, 54, are on trial on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice. Blothman is specifically accused of inducing Gold to tesify falsely in 1947 before a federal grand jury investigating subversion.

First Glimpses Of New Castleites Down At St. Pete

(By JAS. P. CALDWELL)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Nov. 14.—Tourists are rolling into St. Petersburg earlier than usual this year. The weather has been ideal. Sunshine by day, moonshine by night. Green bench sitters getting tanned where it will show most, some on tops of their heads, others down their backs. Men take it on the cheek, women are not so keen for face tan, as they are for tanned gentlemen, in fact they will taken 'em in the raw, as there not near enough to go around. Women with husbands are careful not to let them go out alone.

Most of the green bench sitters are past middle age. Some are heading toward that uncertain age, which an unfeeling public calls "old". But that gracious sun brings back the youth in their hearts, and now they live anew life's summertime.

Oldsters On Go

You find them on shuffle boards or dance floors. They step the light fantastic until they wilt, and then recuperate with a game of Canasta. Nowhere in America will you find so many elderly people enjoying the sports of youth.

Out on the bathing beaches it is just the same. Old men who learned to swim on a fence rail, sans bathing suits, now mingle with grandmas, who learned in the nightgown age. Both now sport the latest styles that the bathing suit creators turn out, and both wallow in the sand. The water is warm, and the beaches have been crowded. I have graduated as a swimmer, but I still go down to the beaches to astronomize.

Numerous Attractions

One of the reasons for St. Petersburg's popularity is the numerous recreational attractions. Another, the fact that the same people come here year after year. It is common to run across people who have been here from ten to twenty seasons. Consequently, wide friendships are made, and coming back is like coming home.

The city has also had thrust upon it somewhat of a reputation as a "Gretna Green". This because so many men and women come here, looking for a second chance. The usual proportion of the sexes is six women to one man. This year the indications are that the proportion will be raised so far as the ladies are concerned.

Of course there are no accurate figures, but everywhere you go, from green bench to church, its easy to note the tall sycamores among the hairdos. And speaking of hairdos, one of the things that has puzzled me is so many browned haired women among the oldsters. I presume they sit in the sun too long.

Scare As Hens Teeth

So far this season New Castle tourists are about as scarce as henteeth. Among the first to check in were Mr. and Mrs. James C. Clements of Edison Ave. They came the first of October. Cyclones were were gallavanting around Florida then, and Jim had an invention he thought would knock them to smithereens. But instead of a cyclone who should turn up but Reese Lewis of Reynolds street, New Castle. Jim at once but his deep invention in deep freeze, as he knew Reese would prove a match for any cyclone that might venture into this neck-o-the-woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben. French, formerly of New Castle, are now located here. Ben will be remembered as an old time manager of the National Meat Market, which was located in the Clendinin block, recently destroyed by fire. French built the trade up with his classy ads in the News. In those days you didn't have to pay for a whole hoge when you bought a pork chop. French is now employed in Webs' big department store here, and recently won a prize for selling more sausage than any meat cutter in the whole shebang.

Pointer For Poets

Gomer Gray, former tin mill worker, and known to fame as a Welsh poet, is here roosting on the green benches, and absorbing a little inspiration for a few classic lyrics.

"You can't write good poetry without sunshine," says Gomer. If members of the New Castle poetry club would come down here to do their writing, I'll show them how to get rich. Lige the poetess from Kalamazoo, Mich., who came here to write her poetry, and soon was worth $50,000. She married a bachelor she found on a green bench and he died.

George Swisher, a former New Castle mail carrier, known to many of the older residents, has failed somewhat in health since last year but is still able to navigate on his own power. He now owns a couple of properties.

W. Howard Gilmore, former North Beaver township residents, now in the real estate business here, reports an active market, with no let up yet in sight.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have just purchased a residence here. Mrs. Thompson was the former Mrs. Urey, widow of Dr. Urey, deceased.

Recent New Castleites registered at the Chamber of Commerce are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Myers. Mrs. W. R. Dickson is also here but has not yet registered. She is the mother of Robert Dickson, assistant trust officer at the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company.

Republicans here are elated. Pinellis county in which St. Petersburg is located, elected Republicans to every office, except that of tax collector.

New Demonstrations Expected In Berlin

BERLIN, Nov. 17. — (INS) — American and British troop reinforcements led by tanks rolled into Berlin to bolster occupation forces. West Berlin police are girding for new Communist demonstrations expected during next month's municipal elections.

The Allied reinforcements brought the heaviest artillery seen in Berlin since wartime combat units policed the former German capital.

Allied intelligence sources learned that the Communists are planning to send thousands of so-called "peace agitators" into West Berlin during the first week of December when the balloting will take place.

West Berlin policemen, who are expected to be armed with submachine guns and automatic rifles by election time, have been ordered by occupation officials to smash the demonstrations "by any means necessary."

Rose Gardeners Get Rose Rates

HARRISBURG, Pa. — (INS) — "The proof of the pudding is in the eating."

Rose gardeners have their proof of the pudding in the American Rose Society Annual, according to the American Rose Society.

Heading the list of the hybrid teas to receive special commendation in the American Rose Society's Court of Honor is Peace with a national rating of 9.4 out of a possible ten. Not far behind is that rich two-toned crimson Tally-ho folowed by rose red Rubaeyat. Other fine roses in the court are Applause, reddish pink to cerese; Debonair, rich yellow; Rose of Freedom, deep rose red; New Yorker, a brilliant red, and Nocturne, deep crimson.

In the floribunda or hybrid polyantha group, so well adapted for mass planting, Red Pinocchio led with a rating of 8.7 followed by Pink Bountiful, a soft, deep pink ,and Pinkie, a low growing light pink variety.

Of the new climbing roses four names were placed in the Rose Roll of Honor for 1950. The beautiful, hardy, white, fragrant City of York, rated 8.7 followed closely by Climbing Crimson Glory, the climbing form of the famous bush rose; Crimson Glory; Climbing Christopher Stone, a brilliant red climbing form of the older bush variety, and High Noon, a brilliant yellow everblooming climber. All of the last three are climbing tea varieties and will need careful protection in the cold climates.

Business Men To Hold Dinner

New Legislation To Be Discussed

Chambers of commerce and business organizations will join in a district legislative dinner to be held in the Ellwood City Country Club Wednesday night, December 29.

The dinner is a biennial affair and is one of many similar affairs over the state sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce. The one in Ellwood City is sponsored by the Greater New Castle Association, Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce, Beaver Falls Chamber of Commerce and other business organizations.

The purpose of the dinners is to discuss tax and other legislative problems affecting business which will come before the 1951 session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly.

W. L. Dean, president of the Mathews Conveyor company, is the chairman of the dinner. Speakers will include Attorney Robert M. White of New Castle, newly elected assemblyman, Assemblyman Robert Hamilton of Beaver county, and W. F. Schulten, assistant to the first vice president of the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal company.

Tickets for the dinner can be secured in the office of the Greater New Castle association.

Woman Is Killed In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—A 52-year-old widow was killed early today when a car driven by her son collided with another automobile on Philadelphia's East River drive, near Strawberry Mansion bridge.

The victim was Mrs. Lucy Candeloro. Her son, Ralph, 22, sustained several rib fractures, and Morris Carson, 52, identified as the driver of the other car, received a broken right leg.

The accident occurred on a sweeping curve in the drive.

STORK SHOWER

"Several of my neighbors in the project in which I live gave me a stork bridge-shower, the hostess planning and paying most of the expenses. When I opened the gifts, I thanked each donor personally and profoundly. Is it now essential that I write a "thank-you" note to each donor? And what should I do about the hostess?"

Answer: While it is not necessary for you to write thank-you notes to those whom you have already thanked verbally it is a thoughtful gesture to do so. Also write a short note to the hostess thanking her for her party in your honor, and include her, as well as the guests, in any large party you have in the near future.

Question: Please advise me if at a guest table at a testimonial dinner where dancing is going on during course is it wrong for guests to leave the table and dance.

Answer: It is entirely permissible for guests at a dinner dance to leave the table to dance. It is, however, conducive to everyone's comfort and happiness if they leave the table only between courses or after the dinner is finished. They should not leave the table to dance as a course is being served, thereby holding up the dinner.

Question: Give me your advice please on suggestions for my forthcoming wedding. I plan to have only one usher in the following bridal party: Maid-of-honor, one bridesmaid, one usher and a flower girl.

Answer: For a better balanced wedding party, I suggest two ushers. Your processional will be more attractive if arranged thus: Two ushers heading the group, followed by the bridesmaid and the maid-of-honor, walking either together or in single file; then the flower girl and last, of course, the bride on her father's right arm.

Holiday Lights For Downtown

Holiday Special Shopping Nights Also Announced

Christmas lighting on the downtown streets will add to the Christmas shoppers' cheer this year.

Mrs. Inez Patton of the Greater New Castle associtaion said today the Christmas lights will be turned on Friday night, Nov. 24, and will be on every night until Christmas.

This year the stores will not be open every night during the Christmas shopping season. They will open Friday night, Nov. 24, and will be open each Monday and Friday night through December 22.

Merchants believe that by opening on Friday night, Nov. 24, and being open Monday and Friday nights through the next weeks it will give shoppers a better opportunity to get their Christmas shopping done than if the stores were open every night for the last week before Christmas.

Hope To Salvage Pension Ordinance

Members of the City Employes Retirement system and attorneys met Thursday at City Hall where the later explained the reasons why the court of Lawrence county had rendered an adverse opinion against the city pension ordinance. The court decided some portions exceeded boundaries set by the state legislature.

It was the decision of the members that the attorneys file exceptions, and endeavor to salvage valid portions of the ordinance, in order to continue the pension system.

DEADLINE FOR FILING

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The State Farm Show Commission today reminded farmers that tomorrow is the deadline for filing livestock and poultry entries for the 1951 exposition at Harrisburg January 8-12.

Entries postmarked prior to midnight will be accepted.

All commercial exhibit space has been allocated, according to Secretary Miles Horst.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

GRANDPARENTS' CLUBS

Grandparents are becoming a more and more important part of our population.

Census figures show that most of us are going to be living much longer than did our forefathers. Young marriages are becoming more common than they were. And most young people seem to want to have children. All this adds up to the fact that Grandpa and Grandma are going to be around.

Grandparents have problems, too. Sometimes, they feel they're not too welcome in the small dwellings of their children. Often, their ideas about bringing up youngsters are quite different from those of their now-grown offspring. And, then, too, as they grow older they don't always find life as comfortable and as interesting as they would like it to be.

There's no easy answer to these problems. Many families and many of the older people have worked them out well. But a lot of us are still struggling.

One hopeful sign is the development of grandparents' clubs. Sometimes the members of these clubs are concerned only with sharing together their feelings and attitudes that are troublesome. In other clubs, there are social educational and recreational activities as well.

Who knows? Out of these grandparents' clubs may come some real answers to the problem of aging in our society.

Westinghouse And Employes Agree

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17—(INS)—Westinghouse Electrical Corporation and the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers today had come to terms on a contract covering some 1,500 workers in 20 states.

Signing of the contract yesterday completed bargaining for 1950 between the firm and four unions representing about 70,000 employes.

Previously contracts were signed with the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried unions, covering about 12,000 "white collar" worker. The United Electrical Workers Independent, with 20,000 employes and the CIO International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, covering nearly 40,000 persons.

All four unions benefited by an average 10 cents hourly wage increase and various social insurance and pension benefits.

Police Inspector Called As Witness In New York Probe

NEW YORK, Nov. 17—(INS)—A chief inspector of police was summoned to appear today before the special Brooklyn Grand Jury concluded a seven-months investigation of Harry Gross' $20,000,000 a year gambling empire with a sealed criminal information naming 34 persons.

The information, which will be opened Monday in Kings' County Court, cited the defendants for conspiracy to violate the gambling laws and on several counts of bookmaking.

The Grand Jury also named six policemen, but as co-conspirators and not as defendants. They will not be tried but will appear as witnesses against the defendants. If they balk, however, they also can be put on trial.

District Attorney Miles F. McDonald, who has been directing the probe of the police-protected gambling rackets, said that inspector August W. Flath will be asked to testify about wiretaps on the dugout, a Brooklyn restaurant which Gross was alleged to have as a headquarters.

SAVE $2.40 ON THIS MEDICINE

Sufferers From Stomach Gas, Indigestion, Worn-out Feeling

Eckerd's Drug Store will sell a full $3.40 course of four (4) bottles of the New, Modern Medicine, CERTA-VIN, for One Dollar with coupon, this week ONLY.

This offer is made because we think anyone who suffers should have a chance to give a medicine a real thorough trial at small cost; also because we believe those who are benefited will continue to use it.

There are no "IFS" or "ANDS" to this offer. No tricks. No catches. It is simply to prove that here is a medicine that is helping many people who had NEVER BEEN really helped before by other medicines.

What It Will Do

Certa-Vin will bring out gases (frequently from the first dose) which may have been the real cause all along of your gas pains, sourness and stomach distress.

It will help Nature relieve indigestion, difficult breathing due to gassy stomach, dyspepsia, and pain in chest due to stomach gas.

Certa-Vin is a New, Scientific Formula containing juices from 12 of Nature's finest medicinal plants; also contains Vitamin B-1 to energize your nerves and Iron to strengthen your blood. Weak, miserable people soon feel different all over.

FOUR-BOTTLE COURSE (worth $3.40) for $1.00

After the closing hour at our store Saturday night the regular price will be restored. But between now and Saturday night the coupon below is worth $2.40 on your purchase. So if you are a victim of stomach gas or nervous, worn-out feeling, don't go on suffering! Bring coupon to our store before Saturday closing hour this week:

Hearings Are Scheduled On State Election

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Sen. Gillette (D) Iowa, said he expects his subcommittee on elections to hold open hearings on the Pennsylvania senatorial election in which Gov. James H. Duff defeated incumbent Democrat Francis J. Myers.

At the same time, Gillette said the subcommittee would not investigate the Ohio election in which Sen. Taft won overwhelming re-election over Democratic candidate Joseph Ferguson.

Gillette said that he wants one Democrat and one Republican to preside over the open hearings in Pennsylvania.

He said a date could not be set until he is able to gather the three-man subcommittee in Washington.

The other members are Sens. Stennis (D) Miss. and Schoeppel (R) Kan.

Milady's Hats Get Defender

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng. — (INS) —Milady's new hat, however peculiar, should be treated with respect—it embodies a constructive opinion of the philosophy of economics, science and religion.

So said gallant defender of the dainty headpiece, John Laver, keeper of the department of fine arts at the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, a lone male speaker at the annual conference of the National Council of Women.

Laver said:

"A woman's hat means more than most people think. If we could really understand its full significance we should be able to prophesy not only her clothes but the fashion in interior decorating and development in architecture for the next few years."

Five hundred women delegates, representing 2,000,000 housewives, cheered enthusiastically when Laver asserted that their hats were pointers to modern trends.

"When women began to wear hats, particularly men's hats," added Laver, "one could be sure that the period of female emancipation was coming. It was significant that at the peak period of male domination men wore tall top hats. Now their hats have a bashed in look."

Peace Treaty With Japan Is Discussed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—President Truman on Thursday discussed the question of a Japanese peace treaty with Secretary of State Acheson and Republican foreign policy advisor John Foster Dulles.

Dulles said that he had discussed with the President the results of the "first round" of negotiations on the peace treaty with Japan.

He said that he gave Mr. Truman a thorough briefing on progress that has been made in that direction.

Dulles said: "Anything else will have to come from the President."

Large Attendance At Slippery Rock Special Services

Attendance increasing in size each evening with nearly a full house Wednesday evening shows the interest in the evangelistic meetings being conducted by the Rev. Don E. McKaughan, "Brother Don," at the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church on the Ellwood City-New Castle road.

"A Christian Bearing Fruits" was the subject of the sermon. He impressed upon an attentive audience the fact that not only will a real Christian show forth the spiritual fruits of love, joy, peace, long suffering, goodness, faithfulness, meekness and self control, but that real fruit-bearing also consists in reproducing its kind, viz., other souls won to Christ.

Frank Wiley led the song service accompanied by Mrs. Wiley at th piano and Mrs. Weed Wellhausen at the organ. Brother Don also accompanied on his electric accordion. A full choir of volunteer voices assisted in the song service. William Boyer, director of the choir sang a solo "Rock of Ages."

Meetings will continue each evening except Saturday, at 7:45 p.m. this week and next ending on Sunday evening, Nov. 26. Prayer meeting is held each evening in the basement at 7:30.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER

CAN'T AFFORD IT

Aunt Jane is very much over weight. She worries about it but keeps getting ftater.

She takes reducing pills. She tries ready made diets and reads sure-fire reducing books.

She says that she cannot afford to go to a doctor.

Really she cannot afford not to go to a doctor. She has spent a lot of money already and is worse than ever.

It would have been cheaper to get the right kind of advice in the first place.

Obesity is dangerous even though some fat people manage to waddle along to a good old age.

The Latin name for Copenhagen is Hafniae.

Volant Lions Hear Views Of Members

Dispensing with a program at their meeting, members of the Volant Lions' club held an informal business session following their usual dinner. The meeting was held in the Volant Methodist church.

During the after dinner hour, any member with a gripes or any business, suggestions, or ideas was given the opportunity to express his views. Special stress was laid upon a drive for better attendance with strict regulations now in effect. Decision was made to drop any member who does not pay his dues, also any member who misses six consecutive meetings without acceptable reasons.

One new member was welcomed into the club. He is Earl Wimer, Rt. 1, New Wilmington, who transferred his membership from the New Castle club.

December 12 was set as the date for the Lions' annual buckwheat supper. Tickets may be obtained from any member, or bought at the door. Serving will begin at 5 p.m., and continue as long as the demand exists.

Two of the club members who were absent because of illness were Rev. Wm. A. Lloyd, who is convalescing from a recent operation, and Ralph Cunningham, a patient in the Mercer Cottage hospital.

Thank Offering Service Sunday At Local Church

Women's Missionary society and Agnes Schade society of the St. Paul's Lutheran church will have a joint thank offering service Sunday evening, November 19, at 7:45.

Mrs. Lowrie Anderson will be guest speaker and will show slides of the work done by the missionaries in Sudan Africa, where she and her husband served for over 20 years.

Special music will be furnished by the children's choir.

The service will be preceded by a tureen dinner at 6 o'clock for the members of the church.

Chinese custom reportedly requires a guest to keep his hat on while in the house, but no matter how bad his sight, he must take his glasses off.

BUILDS HIS OWN 'FLYING SAUCER'

A close-up of Dick Stasinos' scale model "flying saucer."

Dick (right) tells pals model is aerodynamically plausible.

ENGINEERING GRADUATE Dick Stasinos of Inglewood, Cal., has built a scale model of his version of a "flying saucer." His craft which, he claims, is aerodynamically plausible, features a revolving outer disc which houses eight turbo-jet ports. The stationary center of the disc contains the pilot's cockpit. Two main jets would provide the push and jets on the outer disc would make it spin. (International)

Governor Duff Has No Objection To Election Probe

By JOHN PAGET
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—The proposed investigation of Pennsylvania's U. S. Senate election raised no objection today from victorious James H. Duff.

The outgoing Republican governor, who defeated Democratic incumbent Francis J. Myers for the Senate, November 7, indicated he has no objection to a possible appearance during the public hearings recommended by U. S. Sen. Guy M. Gillette (D) Iowa, chairman of the Senate's sub-committee on elections.

"If he wants to investigate in Pennsylvania," said Duff, "that's all right with me but let him investigate the Democrats as well."

Gillette said his proposal was subject to the approval of his Senate colleagues, J. C. Stennis (D) Mississippi and Andrew F. Schoeppel (R) Kansas.

The Iowa Senator indicated interest in GOP expenditures during the primary and general elections but has not pinpointed any irregularities.

Governor Duff has left no doubt of his belief that the Gillette's interest is motivated by politics.

CHEWTON

SUNDAY SERVICES

Chewton Christian Church — 10 a.m., Bible school, C. B. Guy, supt., Mrs. O. V. Douthitt, Junior dept. supt.; 11, Lord's Supper and morning worship service; 7:30 p.m., evening worship and song service; C. P. Durbin, minister.

BIBLE CLASS DINNER

Members of the J. C. Yoho Bible class of the Chewton Christian Bible school motored to Zelienople Saturday evening where they enjoyed their annual anniversary dinner. After the meal a business meeting was conducted by the president, Lewis B. Guy. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held at the church December 16 with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tillia as hosts. Mrs. Elmer Badger and Mrs. John Roe are to have charge of the program.

Mrs. Lewis Guy was appointed to take charge of the gifts sent to Janet Stevenson at the Christian home at Somerset.

A program was presented under the direction of Robert Tillia and William Tillia. Ruth Guy and Edith Badger gave readings and games were enjoyed, with prizes awarded to Pansy Johnson, Mary Arnold, Hazel Lutz, J. D. Gormley, Albert Lutz and Oren Aiken. Group singing was also enjoyed, with Dorothy Tillia as pianist. Twenty-nine members enjoyed the evening.

W.C.T.U. MEETING

Members of the Chewton W.C.T.U. will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. William McMillin Tuesday, with a tureen dinner at noon. Mrs. Elmer Badger will be the leader of the meeting.

CHEWTON NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferrante and family spent the weekend visiting with friends in Pittsburgh.

Nora Ritchie and brother, John, of Ellwood City, visited with Mrs. J. C. Yoho Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hennon and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hennon and daughter, of Wayne township, Sunday.

Mrs. James Milnes and son of West Pittsburg and Mrs. Earl St. Clair and son, Mark, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence St. Clair and family Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson and Sherman Fosnaught visited with John Fosnaught, who is a patient in the Ellwood City hospital. Mr. Fosnaught is reported a little improved.

Mrs. Earl St. Clair was a visitor in Ellwood City Wednesday.

Mrs. Walter Kubinsky has returned home from the New Castle hospital in New Castle where she was confined for a week undergoing treatment.

Donald Winegar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byrl Winegar, is confined to his home with the measles.

Four Children Born In Less Than Year

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The birth of triplets gave Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Yerves, Jr., the distinction today of having brought four children into the world in little more than nine months.

Last Feb. 3 Mrs. Yerves gave birth to Kathleen Claire. Yesterday Kathleen acquired three brothers, Dennis Engene, four pounds 12 ounces, Thomas Bennett, four pounds, 13 ounces and Gerard Francis, five pounds.

All is not happiness, however, for the 26-year-old couple who have been married 19 months. Yerves, a shipping clerk, makes only $50 a week and the family must squeeze into a two-room apartment.

Moore Promoted To Lieut. Colonel

Robert L. Moore, son of Mrs. Ethel J. Moore, Clen-Moore boulevard, and grandson of Mrs. Catherine C. Moore, 112 West Euclid avenue, New Castle, has been promoted from the grade of Major to Lieutenant Colonel.

Moore has been in the Army since January 1941, and is currently assigned to operations, in the Louisana Military District.

County Youths Win At Show

Score High With Lamb Exhibitions

Competing in a large field of entries from three states, Lawrence county farm youths, members of the 4-H and F.F.A., made a creditable showing at the annual Junior Livestock Show in Pittsburgh which ended Thursday.

David Martin, Washington township 4-H club youth, placed first with a pen of three lambs in the Dorset class, and his brother, Richard, took second in the same class. In the Shropshire division, Ronald Sturgeon, of Perry township took a third place, Nancy Marshall, a fourth, and John Marshall, a fifth. All are 4-H members.

In the baby beef division, Dale Neely, Plaingrove 4-H club member, took a tenth place with a light-weight Shorthorn; George Maxwell, Plaingrove 4-H club member took a 10th in the Shorthorn heavyweight class; and Gayle Gwin, North Beaver F.F.A. member took a 9th place in the Shorthorn heavyweight class.

DRIVE IS MADE IN NORTHEAST KOREA

Red guerrilla bands stepped up attacks on UN rear bases and supply arteries. American intelligence officers were checking reports that two North Korean divisions were operating along the 38th parallel, 110 miles south of the active fighting front.

726 Enemy Casualties

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman, indicating the scope of fighting behind the lines, announced Friday that U. S. 24th Division troops inflicted 726 enemy casualties during the past 24 hours in the triangular area around Chorwon.

These included 537 Red guerrillas killed and 189 taken prisoner, along with large quantities of weapons and ammunition captured in the rear sector centered on Chorwon, 16 miles north of the 38th parallel.

The Eighth Army spokesman said the enemy forces operating in that zone, roughly 45 to 60 miles above the South Korean capital of Seoul, are showing "a relatively high degree of organization." He said these guerrillas have "specific missions of attacking cities and disrupting routes of communication."

Winter Adversary

In addition to the regular and guerrilla Red troops, "general winter" was assuming an increasing role as an adversary of the UN forces.

A spokesman for the U. S. Eighth Army which operates in the northwest and central sectors said Friday he had been informed that Arctic temperatures as low as 20 below zero were hampering the U. S. Army's Seventh Division in northeast Korea.

This division, belonging to the 10th Corps which has the responsibility for the northeast front, sent its 17th Regiment five miles forward Thursday despite the bitter cold and enemy resistance.

By Friday morning the 17th Regiment was reported on the immediate southern approaches to the road center of Kapsan, only 20 air miles south of the nearest point on Manchuria's curling Yalu river boundary.

Advance in Valley

The Americans were advancing along the valley of the south-to-north Hochon river which flows past Kapsan on the west and empties into the Yalu near the border town of Hyesanjin.

An advance to Hyesanjin would throw a block across the base of Korea's entire northeast corner which adjoins both southeast Manchuria and southwest Soviet Siberia.

Warm clothing was being rushed in increasing quantities to the front line UN troops to help combat the severe cold. Officers in charge of logistics at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo Headquarters said winter gear had reached Korea well ahead of the onset of the cold wave.

They said broken rail bridges and enemy-mined seaports had put most of the load on the airlift which had only limited fields on which to land with the winter clothing. In addition, the front-line troops outran their supply lines.

The officers said this situation has been just about corrected.

A British spokesman said 3,000 pounds of heavy woolen pullovers have been flown to the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade in the Northwest sector.

He said these garments will help keep the British Commonwealth troops warm until they receive American winter gear as soon as the U. S. 24th Division gets its issue of warm clothing.

Folks Of Fame

Josephus Daniels, American editor and politician was born in Washington, N. C., May 18, 1862. At 18 he became a newspaper editor, and was admitted to the bar in 1885, but preferred newspaper work. He became editor of a Raleigh paper in that year, and was printer for the state of North Carolina from 1887 to 1893. For two years he was chief clerk of the department of the interior. In 1913 he was appointed secretary of the navy by President Woodrow Wilson. On retirement from this office in 1921, he resumed his newspaper editorship. He was author of "The Navy and the Nation," "Our Navy at War," "Life of Worth Bagley" and "Life of Woodrow Wilson." He died in 1948.

This noted director and actor of stage and screen Hallbrook Blinn was born in San Francisco, January 23, 1872. He first appeared on the stage in 1878 as a child in "The Streets of London," and for 27 years he acted, starred and managed one-act plays. "The New South" was one of his early plays, "The Only Way," "The Great Silence," "To Have and to Hold," "Ghost of Jacob Marley," "Scrooge," "Sapho," "The Clansman" and "The Plainsman," "The Man of the Hour," "Candida," and many others were in his repertoire. His screen career in the old silent days comprised such pictures as "Prima Donna's Husband," "Madonna of the Slums," "Rosita," "The Red Man," etc. Any of you old timers remember this noted player? He died back in 1928.

Executives Hear Talk By Noted Judge

Judge Harold C. Kessinger of Ridgewood, N. J., noted orator, humorist and philosopher, spoke to the members of the Executives club on the inventions of man and their use by the human race at the club's monthly dinner meeting in The Castleton hotel Thursday evening.

The judge told how the material growth of the world had been so much faster than the moral growth and how inventions have changed the ways of the world.

"The invention of gun powder killed feudalism; the airplane killed isolationism; atomic energy has killed once-safe nationalism."

He said that we are in a dangerous period between the old nationalism—too weak to safeguard us— and the new internationalism —not yet matured.

The judge expressed his confidence in the brotherhood of man, however, and declared that the way to peace is through the United Nations and that all history has been pointing in that direction.

He said, however, that we need better and stronger men in public office:

Need New Leadership

"We need a new type of political leadership—men who will think of the next generation instead of the next election."

Judge Kessinger mixed a keen sense of humor with his inspiring talk. At the conclusion of his speech he answered questions asked by persons in the audience.

President E. L. Stitzinger was in charge of the meeting. Dr. J. W. Post gave the invocation. Dr. A. B. Foster introduced the speaker.

New members introduced at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Belknap and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Brindle. It was announced that Dr. A. H. Borland was named to the board of directors, replacing Dr. Joseph Hartman, and that Dr. A. B. Foster had succeeded Dr. Hartman as vice president.

Due to the Chritsmas holidays there will be no meeting in December, it was announced. On January 19 Judge George W. Hardy will speak on "God, the Supreme Court and Us".

Republic Steel Plans Expansion

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Republic Steel Corporation announced plans today for the biggest single expansion of steelmaking capacity ever undertaken in the greater Cleveland area.

President C. M. White said the program will add 672,000 net tons of steel ingot capacity per year to Republic's Cleveland plant, and that it will represent an investment in excess of $75 million.

Work on the project, which is expected to provide employment for 800 additional men, is to begin at once.

White announced that Republic is acquiring ownership of the No. 5 blast furnace and the RFC coke plant in Cleveland which it has been operating on a sub-lease from the Kaiser Frazer Corporation.

Major facilities on which work has already begun include:

A 126-oven by-product coke plant, a 1,400-ton blast furnace, four 275-ton open hearth furnaces and a new 72 inch tandem cold reducing mill. Other improvements and major changes in present facilities are also contemplated under the program.

Tall Cedars To Have Social Event

Members of La-Me-Bu Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, which was constituted here last month, will gather in the Cathedral Saturday evening, November 25, at 6:30 o'clock for an oyster supper.

This will be the first ladies night program for the local forest, and reservations for the event are asked to be in the hands of the committee by Monday, November 20.

Pollock P.T.A. Meets At School

Members of the Pollock Parent-Teachers association met Thursday evening in the school music room, with Mrs. Leo Gensante opening the meeting by reading the PTA prayer.

Orlando Lucidore, unit president, conducted the business meeting and passed out several educational pamphlets and explained their contents, which dealt with John Dewey's philosophy of education. Mr. Lucidore urged the parents to read the pamphlets and other magazines pertaining to child growth and development. A question and answer period on report cards followed the meeting.

Mrs. Mary Sands, chairlady of the annual auction, displayed many donations for the PTA unit.

Refreshments were later served by the social committee, with Mrs. Arnold Ascione, chairlady, and aides Mrs. Antoinette Cumo, Mrs. Henry Venditto, Mrs. Helen Richards, Mrs. Edith Natale, Mrs. Vido Sforze, Mrs. Alice Scunzio, Mrs. Jane Marino, Miss Hazel Grossman, Miss Edythe Martin and Mrs. Leo Gensante.

The room prize for the grade having the most parents in attendance went to Miss Hazel Grossman's room, 3-2.

Mr. Lucidore announced that the next meeting will be held one week earlier than usual due to the Christmas holiday, with the group to meet at the school on December 14. The event will be a Christmas party with the committee including: Mrs. Esther Esposito, chairlady, and aides, Mrs. Stanley DeFiore, Mrs. Armond Ascione, Mrs. Rose Roselli, Miss Ruth Weir, Mrs. Marie McIltrot, Mrs. Lena Lombardo, Mrs. Mary Gallagher, Mrs. Frank Palumbo and John Ambrose.

Horse Killed In Unusual Accident

An unusual, seldom-heard-of accident occurred last night after 11 o'clock on R. D. 3, Beaver Falls, near Ellwood City, when a car operated by Ted McKinney of near Ellwood City hit and killed a horse owned by Dale Hart of R. D. 3, Beaver Falls.

McKinney was traveling home from his work when he noticed a car swerve in front of him on the Brush Creek road. Too late he noticed that a horse was on the road and struck the animal before he could stop. Considerable damage was done to the hood of the McKinney car with the impact of the horse's body.

Two horses owned by Mr. Hart had been pastured in a near-by field and the one had broken loose and run into the path of the passing cars.

Zone Meeting In City Hall

Proposed revision of the Zoning law, as it affects the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth wards was explained by Charles Cella of the Institute of Local and State Government of the Consulting Service of the University of Pennsylvania last night in city hall.

Approximately 40 persons attended the meeting.

Trailer camps were discussed, as was a plot of ground used by the New Castle Duntile company in Fulton street.

In the future trailers will not be allowed except where they are placed on a foundation, which gives the city a right to assess them for taxes. They do not pay taxes now.

Relative to the Duntile company's plot, the zoners extended the industrial area but nearby residents object to company operations.

Plan To Build $15,000 Mortuary

City of New Castle Bureau of Building today isued to Peter M. Pagley a permit to erect a mortuary of brick and concrete block as an addition at 941 South Mill street. The cost is estimated to be $15,000.

Other permits issued were as follows: Frank S. McBride, 308 Harding street, porch and bathroom; Benjamin Domenic, 815 Liberty street, frame dwelling.

PERFORMS AS ACTOR THOUGH BLIND

—Acme Telephoto

CHICAGO—Totally blind is Mike Sachs (left) but you would never believe it from the way he leers at his partner, Alice Kennedy, as they peddle a routine in burlesque show at the Rialto here. Mike has been almost blind for most of the 55 years he has been in show business. The last five years ha has been absolutely without sight, but the way he follows a wiggle dancer across the stage, head turning even with her progress, and bobbing in time with her gyrations, belies his handicap. Mike's handicap plays no part in his routine. He plays the straight, baggypants comedy, traditional to burlesque and the customers love every moment of it.

CREATURE-CARANO APPROACHING VOWS

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Creature of Hillsville wish to announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Yolanda, to Palmer Carano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Carano, 1574 Sheehy, Youngstown, O.

Miss Creature has chosen Miss Mary Grace Lupo to be her maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Mary Alice Luscre, Virginia Gennaro, Betty Catale, Mary Sackin, Betty Jean Gregg and Josephina Lupo.

Albert Necro will serve the groom as best man and the ushers will be Bob De Witt, Anthony Kubilis, Edward Parise, Carl Testa, James Mashiska, Jr., and Johnny Bracglia.

The open church wedding will take place on Saturday, November 25, at 9:30 a. m. in the St. Lawrence church, Hillsville. The wedding reception will follow in St. Lucy's hall, Hillsville.

The bride-elect is employed by the Gala restaurant, New Castle. The prospective groom is employed by the Canner Dry Cleaners, Youngstown.

Mr. Carano will leave for the service on December 8.

Collazo To Plead 'Not Guilty' On Murder Charge

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS) Oscar Collazo will plead not guilty today to the charge of murdering White House Guard Leslie Coffelt while trying to assassinate President Truman.

Collazo's arraignment, probably before U.S. District Judge Edward A. Tamm, is expected to be brief. It is unlikely that trial will start before January.

In addition to the two murder counts, one premeditated and one "non-purposeful," in connection with Coffelt's pistol death, Collazo was indicted on two counts of felonious assault with intent to kill.

The two assault counts were returned for the wounding of guards Joseph H. Downs and Donald T. Birdzell.

Collazo's Puerto Rican Nationalist partner, Griselio Torresola, was fatally shot during the desperate attempt to shoot their way into Blair House November 1 to kill the President.

Collazo was wounded but is recovering and will be in court today.

New Castle Students Named To Appear In College 'Who's Who'

Three New Castle students at Youngstown college have been named to appear in the 1950 "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," according to an announcement made today by Dr. J. E. Smith, dean of the college.

The New Castle representative students are: Miss Kathy Shabala, 1813 Pennsylvania avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shabala, a senior business administration student; Joseph B. Donegan, 101 West Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Donegan, senior student in the school of business administration, and Raymon Owoc, 22 West Long avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. AIojzy Owoc, a senior in the William Rayen School of Engineering.

Ping Pong Ball Creates Fog

ITHACA, N. Y.—(INS)A Cornell University psychologist has succeeded in creating a fog with a ping-pong ball. Conducted for the U. S. Air Force, the experiment is designed to test a theory of depth perception new to psychology.

Many psychologists believe that man's ability to see a 3-dimensional world is due to a process which is the brain's duty, rather than the eye's.

Dr. James J. Gibson, professor of psychology at Cornell, holds another theory—that this kind of perception can be explained in terms of images on the retina of the eye. The theory is that a surface has several difinite properties—color, size, hardness, slant, shape and texture.

If you were asked to describe a certain table top, you might say it is so many feet long, looks hard, is flat, and is brownish, meaning that the grain weaves various patterns of light and dark browns. The description "brownish" is an unscholarly but adequate definition of texture, Dr. Gibson explains.

The Cornell psychologist maintains that texture is the most important property of a surface. In fact, he is trying to find out whether a surface without texture can be seen at all.

The ping-pong ball "fog," conceived at Cornell by Dr. Julian, E. Hochberg and an assistant, Gideon Seaman, is being used to create a world without any surfaces. Dr. Gibson has constructed a pair of goggles from the two halves of a ping pong ball. When a subject, wearing the goggles, is placed in a specially-lighted perception room, he can see the brightness or darkness but he can't see any surfaces because the celluloid is so close to his eyes that he can't make out its texture. Because of the absence of texture, he has the sensation of being enveloped in a fog. By this means the Cornell scientist can study what we see when we can't make out surfaces.

By using this device as a basis for several other experiments, Dr. Gibson hopes to be able to answer a number of questions about depth perception in which the Air Force is interested.

Oddfellows Plan Christmas Event

Members of New Castle lodge No. 195 I. O. O. F. had their regular meeting on November 14 with Noble Grand B. A. Conti presiding.

The noble grand appointed a committee to arrange for a Christmas entertainment, and other social activities during the winter months. Committee consists of William Richardson, John Earhart and William Hites to act in conjunction with the noble grand.

Arrangements were made for a series of card and games contest parties to commence on Saturday evening, November 18, to which all Oddfellows, Rebekas, Theta Rho Girls club with their families and friends are welcome to attend.

Date of the Christmas entertainment will be later announced.

Next regular meeting will be Tuesday evening, November 21, at 7:30 o'clock.

Chinese Communist Delegation To Arrive In U.S. November 24

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Nov. 17.—The United Nations received word Thursday that the nine--member Chinese Communist delegation, en route to Security Council to press charges of United States aggression, expected to arrive Nov. 24.

The U.N. has been advised that air transport for the Peiping group is being arranged out of Prague and that arrival in New York is anticipated for the morning after Thanksgiving.

The renewed delay in the appearance of Gen. Wu and his aides considerably upset the Security Council's time-table for dealing with the entry of Chinese Communist troops into Korea.

Expectations were that the Peiping group would arrive over this week-end and be available for questioning by Monday.

Hoarders Lose In Many Ways

DENVER—(INS)—Hoarders are about as welcome on the American scene as a tribe of polecats at a perfumers' convention, but the obnoxious art of taking more than one needs also provides a chuckle now and then.

Here are a few as reported by fairly reliable sources in Denver.

One West Denver citizen, who gets his money's worth each time he weighs his 297 pounds, decided that shorts might become a scare item, so he oozed his bulk into a bus, apparently to save his own tires, and rode uptown, where he purchased some 18 pairs of men's shorts.

One week later, he was scheduled for a major abdominal surgery and upon release from the hospital noted that he had lost some 40 of his 297 pounds.

This meant of course that the hoard of shorts he had purchased would now more than reach around his still ample girth, in fact the shorts were half a dozen sizes too large.

The crowning blow was that the shorts had been purchased at a sale and could not be exchanged.

Another guy, who feared canned salmon would soon be as scarce as oysters in a restaurant stew bought three cases of the tinned fish food and stored it in his basement.

Shortly after this, his doctor put him on a diet, and the character was horrified to see canned salmon as one of the verboten items on his eating list.

COURTESY CRIME

LONDON—(INS)—Albert William Salter learned that courtesy, like crime, doesn't pay. The 34-year-old electrician stole a purse from a home was arrested when he returned, several hours later, to apologize. He was sentenced to three months in jail.

Scientists Probe Into Solar Flares

CLIMAX, Colo.—(INS)—People talk a lot about the weather. Rainmakers try to do something about it. Now come the scientists with their probing into solar flares to find out if the sun is going to shine six months from now.

Dr. Walter Orr Roberts is the man who says that if the relationship between solar flares and changes of barometric pressure can be determined it would be possible to tell a half year in advance whether heavier rainfall than normal could be expected or a near-drought.

Roberts is the superintendent of the Harvard-Colorado universities observatory at Climax, Colo.

The silver domed building claims to be the highest astronomical observatory in the world. There's nothing much at that 11,318 foot mountain elevation to disturb the peace and quiet except an occasional whoom and slight quake as the Climax Molybdenum company goes about its business of caving in a sizeable hill to obtain that metal used to harden steel.

The scientists can't complain about their neighbors because the mining company donated the ground upon which they stand.

Despite the intense cold weather in the winter atop the Continental Divide and the good fishing and hunting in the summer and fall, the probers of the solar secrets lead a pretty normal life.

Sun Telescope

They tend house with all electrical appliances to keep the atmosphere dustless and go about their business of peering at clouds of gas which extend above the surface of the sun and the halo-like corona of the sun.

In 1940 a coronagraph—a telescope of five-inch aperature—was installed. It was the first one to be used in the western hemisphere, the other two in the world being located in France and in Switzerland. Next year a new 16-inch coronagraph will be erected at the Climax observatory. It will be the largest in the world.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 17.—The RKO-Radio studio bigwigs reckon that it is an 8-to-1 chance that no one in Hollywood will stumble on what "The Thing" is all about until it is unreeled for the first time.

"The Thing" is the studio's top secret project and the sound stage on which it is being shot is harder to enter than the U. S. mint and tougher to leave unnoticed than Alcatraz.

Only thing that is known about the picture is that it is supposed to be a "King Kong" of '51. The "Kong" picture dealt with an expedition to a formidable island on which roamed a huge ape. The picture is still box office after 15 years making the rounds.

Producer Howard Hawks, famed director of "Red River", is handling "The Thing". He has cast a group of unknowns in the film just to make it more horrifying to movie audiences. He reckoned that with a familiar face in the picture, the film-going public would just sit back and allow that it was just another Hollywood flicker.

Unknown Faces

But wtih unknown faces on the screen the celluloid shocker will have a double impact.

This much is known about "The Thing". Whatever it is, it has been shipped to northern Montana where much of the picture will be filmed. It somehow pertains to a polar climate, because actors have been notified that they will work in snow at temperatures approaching 30 degrees below zero.

The three principals in the secret project are Margaret Sheridan, Kenneth Tobey and Robert Cornthwaite. The picture has a 51-day schedule and the word is not to spare the horses on the film—meaning that the company can take all the time necessary to shoot it and spend around a million and a half on it.

Brownie Troop Visits Library

Troop 52, Brownie Scouts of Mt. Jackson attended a special story hour program in the auditorium of the Public Library on Tuesday.

Stories were told by Mrs. Walter McKee, Children's librarian, and the girls enjoyed an informal visit in the Junior Department after the program.

The trip was arranged by the troop leaders, Miss Helen Weller, Mrs. Wilda Ferree and Mrs. Wanda Snooks.

Miss Mary Martine To Take Part In Show At College

Miss Mary Martine of 406 Laurel boulevard, a sophomore at Youngstown college, will take part in a humorous number "Clementine" when the Youngstown college variety show "Yocohooey II" is staged at the C. J. Strouss Memorial auditorium of the college Nov. 20 through 25.

New Business Levies Opposed

State Chamber Of Commerce Position Given By President

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—President R. C. McKenna said today the State Chamber of Commerce is opposed to any increase in business levies.

He told delegates to the 33rd annual meeting of the chamber at Harrisburg that business men "face a year of decision" at Harrisburg and Washington.

"We are encouraged by the possibilty held out in some quarters that the 1951 session of the Pennsylvania legislature might be able to avoid the imposition of new or additional taxes," McKenna said.

The chamber, he added, "is prepared to oppose increases in present business taxes in view of the very substantial share of Pennsylvania's tax burden already borne by business."

Outlook Is Obscure

The financial outlook for the 1951-53 biennium opening June 1 is obscure, McKenna said, but it depends on "the amount of additional revenues and reduced costs of public assistance which will result from accelerated industrial activity as well as state government economies and a moratorium on new capital outlays."

The chamber is opposed, he said, to congressional approval of an excess profits tax bill because it is "basically inequitable and inflationary."

The chamber announced that Stanley Rector of Washington, D. C., director of the unemployment benefit advisors, was prepared to tell delegates that Congress will be asked by President Truman in the 82nd session to adopt legislation that would "virtually eliminate" the authority of the states in the unemployment compensation program via a "federal re-insurance system" which would be offered as a way to "strengthen" the program.

The effect, he explained, would be to eliminate Pennsylvania's experience rating system whereby employers with little labor force turnover would not benefit from reduced jobless payroll taxes.

Young Ladies Dress In Latest Fashions

NEW YORK.—(INS)—A top authority on women's fashions said today that teen-age girls throughout the country are dressing themselves with greater care so they can marry young.

Richard Englander, designer of women's hats, stated, "The modern high school and college girl, who has far less parental supervision than her mother had, has given up for good the sloppy mode of dress characterized by jeans and sweaters.

"Today's teen-agers spend time on fashions. They want to catch the eye of a man and marry young, so they dress accordingly.

"The Korean War emphasizes this in a great many ways, just as World War II did. It was during World War II that fashion experts first started creating clothes aimed at the teen-agers and this was only because the demand was so great.

"Sales of dresses, accessories and hats for teen-agers jumped sharply since the June 25th invasion by the North Koreans. Sales in hats usually go up at this time of the year anyhow, but our coast to coast offices reported a big increase over the regular seasonal norm.

"The modern day teen-ager," he said, "has more time at her disposal than did her parents and this extra time often leads to trouble. When she spends some of this leisure discussing and planning her appearance, it detracts from things that might be much more serious and harmful.

"If the teen-ager dresses like a lady, she's more apt to act like one."

Pushes Wheelbarrow Over 20,000 Miles

ELLENSBURG, Wash., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Wheelbarrow-pushing Larry Hightower was back at his Ellensburg home today, planning to make a trip up the Alaska highway next spring.

Hightower pushed his wheelbarrow 20,240 miles, into each of the 48 states and Mexico and Guatemala.

On his return, he said he has begun finding out about the possibility of setting up "base camps" to keep himself supplied along the Alaska highway.

LOADING UP FOR ACTION IN KOREA

CHONGJU, KOREA—Tankers, attached to the 24th Division, load 90mm shells into Patton tanks, after clearing an enemy road block near Chongju for an Australian unit and the 24th. The tankers moved forward but were forced to pull back. They later moved forward again.

Engineers Will Meet On Monday

A. L. Barrett research engineer of the Joy Manufacturing company, will be the speaker at the monthly dinner meeting of the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers' society, which will be held in The Castleton, Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Barrett will discuss the subject of mechanization of coal mines, including coal loading equipment and the new continuous mining machinery. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and was with the Pittsburgh Coal company from 1930 to 1947, in charge of mechanical equipment in their mines. Since 1947, he has been with the Joy Manufacturing Co. His talk will be accompanied by a sound picture on the subject for discussion.

No man-made method has been found to equal the centuries-old custom of bleaching flax on grass.

Not Content To Rest On Laurels

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Six Philadelphia detectives are not content to rest on their laurels today.

A little more than 24 hours after they were presented with "hero awards" by Public Safety Director Samuel H. Rosenberg for their exploits, they rounded up three sailors as robbery suspects for a long list of holdups.

The sailors all based at the Naval base were nabbed at a North Philadelphia apartment to climax several weeks of quiet investigation by the detectives.

They were identified as Harold E. Martin, 25, Robert E. Johnson, 19, and Thomas Stevens, 20.

DRIVER FACES CHARGE

William J. Schmidt, Jr., East Big Run street, was arrested at 12:40 p.m. Thursday and a charge of operating a motor car while intoxicated was sworn to by Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna before Alderman C. L. Mantz. The arrest followed his car striking one driven by Mrs. Jean Mayberry, R. D. 5, in East North, near Quest street.

'Boots And Saddles' Seem To Have Call For Holidays

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Mom 'n Pop might just as well get used to the idea—them thar little cowboys are here to stay.

This not-too-surprising bit of information comes fright from the hoss's mouth, podner—the hoss in this instance being one of Santa's reindeer.

This Christmas will be a rootin', tootin', shootin' one, and if you don't believe the reindeer, we also have it on good authority from some of Santa's helpers who order the toys for Philadelphia's department stores.

The kids jest ain't agonna be happy, these buyers agree, unless they get a brace of shootin' arns and any other western items that Mamma and Papa can afford.

Cowboy Trend Pronounced

The cowboy trend is so pronounced, one buyer explained, that it has blown the lid right off the toy gun business.

One gun factory, he said, is 16 weeks behind filling orders despite the fact that it now works the year 'round instead of only three months out of every twelve.

The kids are pretty fussy, too, he added. The toy stores can't get rid of their single-gun holsters. The kids want a holster and a brace (pair) of guns.

Things are getting to the point where a toy buyer simply makes a trip to the television department to see what stock he should lay in, said Joseph Urban who is Santa's chief helper in Gimbels' Philadelphia store.

Traces Fad

He traces the ukele fad, as well as the cowboy craze, directly to television. The uke, he explained, was once "dead as a dodo, but thanks to television and Arthur Godfrey, we now sell them by the carload."

Urban reports that toy prices are up a little. He started ordering this Christmas' supply last February.

John J. Dicarlo, toy buyer for Strawbridge & Clothier, admits that the cowboy stuff is "big" this year, but he points out that dolls are still the foundation of the toy business.

"And dolls are better than ever this year," he adds. "They walk, talk, eat, drink, cry, laugh, giggle, sip orange juice through a straw, blow bubbles, sleep, say their prayers and get permanent waves."

Miniature Cowboys

Myron A. Monchel, Wanamakers' toy buyer, reports that he ordered some intricate cast-metal toys from England. You might have expected the English to send over some toy princes or princesses, but they didn't they sent over miniature American cowboys.

The buyers agree that the selection for boys this year is tremendous, ranging from a dime to a tremendous $150. Among the latest items to hit the market, they add, are:

A toy rocking-horse covered with real pony skin and sporting a genuine saddle—for $69.50.

An English-made Austin, complete with balloon tires, which sells for $150. (And at that price, there's no meter. Junior has to work the pedals.)

An electronic doll that sings, talks and laughs when you push a button in her midriff—$23.79.

An electric organ from $16.95 up.

But you don't need much imagination or money to keep the boys and girls happy this year, the buyers agree. Just hand 'em their boots and saddles, and give 'em the gun.

Insect life has been found at 20,000 feet in the air.

Three Youths Face Robbery Charges In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—A pawned watch made time run out today on three youth believed responsible for robberies in more than 35 factory buildings in the Kensington section over the past year which netted them some $6,000 in loot.

The trio was captured when one of the youths went back to a pawnshop to claim a stolen watch and the pawnbroker notified detectives. They were identified as George Swisher, 21, John J. Washel, 19, and Thomas White, 21, all of Kensington.

October is reported as the second worst month of the year for colds—and December the worst.

Duff To Take Staff Along

Senator-Elect To Have Good Staff

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—U. S. Senator-elect James H. Duff has not yet announced who he will take with him to Washington as members of his personal staff . . . Sure to accompany the governor is his present secretary, Normal L. Wymard . . . Wymard probably will be Duff's administrative assistant, a job that carries an $11,500 yearly salary . . . As the governor's secretary, Wymard's salary is $10,000 annually . . . Another staff member may be Robert B. McCormick, onetime top-flight newsman, who two years ago became Duff's personal public relations man at $10,400 a year . . . McCormick is listed officially as a Commerce department publicity specialist . . . As senator, Duff will be allowed $75,000 to finance his staff . . . Outgoing U. S. Senator Francis J. Myers has 15 persons working for him in Washington . . .

Joseph A. Nissley, secretary to the State Pardons Board at $6,000 a year, persists in his role of an uncooperative state official . . . One of Nissley's main duties is preparing the files on cases due to come before the tribunal at its monthly sessions . . . Newsmen invariably have to fall back on the files to round out the background on some cases . . . With few exceptions, Nissley will throw a roadblock into the path of newsmen seeking information . . . Each time he is called, Nissley has an answer why the information isn't available . . . Nissley and Internal Affairs Secretary William S. Livengood, Jr., a board member, are law partners at Harrisburg . . .

Motor fatalities on the Pennsylvania turnpike, which has been advertised as the world's safest highway, are heading for a new all-time record this year . . . As of November 15, the toll reached 45 . . . Jerry Gilbert, traffic engineer who confirmed a state police report of the number, did not have available the previous high but assured that 1950 would be the record year . . . Gilbert also pointed out that this year also will establish a record as the highest in total traffic traveling the speedway . . . The 45 persons were killed in 32 accidents, the last being a triple fatality November 12 . . .

State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, recently delegated to handle the duties of Lieutenant governor in the absence of Daniel B. Strickler who is on active military service with the 28th Division, said he will not accept the salary due him in his new post . . . Strickler, commandant of the 28th since September 5, said he has not drawn his salary from the elective office since he went on active duty . . . As a result, the state fund will benefit by more than $600 . . . Strickler drew $8,000 a year spread over 24 pay periods . . . The 1949 legislature voted to boost the lieutenant-governor's pay to $15,000 which will start when Lloyd H. Wood takes office in January . . . Governor-elect John S. Fine will go on the payroll at $25,000 per year, $7,000 more than Gov. James H. Duff, under the new salary schedule voted by the legislature in 1949.

Warns Against Careless Use Of Radioactive Materials

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Dr. Thomas L. Shipman, health division leader at the Los Alamos Atomic Laboratory, today cautioned industry against careless use of radioactive materials.

Addressing the 15th annual Industrial Hygiene Foundation meeting at the Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh, Dr. Shipman warned:

"Let me caution you against trying to take any old building and convert it into a place to handle radiation. Gone are the days when you can shoot the bad smell out the window or over the roof and forget it, or when you can take for granted that what goes down the sewer is gone for good."

He said that some industries already may have radiation problems and scarcely realize it, because an increasing number of industries are using radiography as an inspection procedure.

He aded that use of isotopes also may appear in industry before long, and three methods of protection against radiological hazards.

1. Shielding with a radio-opaque substance.
2. Distance (fifteen feet of fresh air).
3. Limitation of the duration of exposure.

The atomic expert added a warning that the worker himself must always be on the alert to remember that he is dealing with a hazard which he cannot detect with any of his natural senses.

Brannan Plan Not Dead Yet It Is Claimed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan called today for an intensified effort to improve the lot of the land-hungry peasant throughout the world as the only "real hope for peace."

Speaking before the annual meeting of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities in Washington, Brannan termed the "misery of the peasant" a basic obstacle to peace.

The secretary asserted that the Korean War has underlined the critical importance of the struggle between "freedom and totalitarianism" in Asia, where eight out of 10 persons are peasants, many living in abject poverty.

Brannan said the United States must work harder at taking the story of its agricultural philosophy to the people of other countries, and particularly to Asia.

New Testament To Be Read In Day

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The New Testament is going to be read through completely in Washington tomorrow.

The reading, which will take about 18 hours and will require 72 persons, each in the pulpit for about 15 minutes, will be at Foundry Methodist church. It is sponsored by the Washington City Bible Society as "a unique testimonial to America's reverence for the Bible . . ."

Included among the participants will be those who will read Braille Bibles and others who will interpret in sign language for the deaf.

CAMPAIGN ENDORSED

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Christmas Seal campaign to aid the fight toward control of tuberculosis was endorsed today by Gov. James H. Duff.

"The progress made in fighting tuberculosis has made many brighter and happier home in our commonwealth," the governor said. "Citizens generally can aid this humanitarian work through their support of the 44th annual Christmas Seal sale."

Albany has been the capital of New York since 1797.

Six Monkeys Are Being Hunted In Cincinnati, O.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Cincinnati police threw out a dragnet today for six fugitives—a sextet of monkeys.

The monkeys escaped yesterday while they were being transferred from one Cincinnati hospital laboratory to another.

Two were caught when they became curious and went into a streetcar. The doors were slammed shut and their escape was short-lived.

The critters gave police a merry chase over rooftops and into buildings. As one policeman put it: "There ain't nothin' in the Policeman's Manual about this."

One of the animals is believed hiding in the boiler room of the hospital but the other are "on the town."

Surprise Election Is No Joy To Him

PRINCETON, West Va., Nov. 17.—(INS—Meet Walter A. Weiss, newly-elected surveyor of Mercer county and a man who wishes today he had fewer friends and more enemies.

The day after election, friend after friend stopped him on the street, shook his hand and offered congratulations. Unknown to him they had filed his name as an Independent candidate for surveyor and he won by 68 votes.

Since then he has received dozens of calls from land owners who want their acres surveyed. But Weiss, a store manager, has never looked through a transit in his life and doesn't know one from a rod.

In addition, he has to post a $10,000 bond and the law says he must buy a lot of expensive equipment. Moreover, the job pays no salary.

If anyone wants the job of surveyor, Weiss says, he will gladly turn over the key to the office—if anyone can tell him where the office is.

Titan Gridders Await Invasion Of Carnegie Tech Saturday

Three Seniors Will Play Final Game, Tech Favored

Once beaten Carnegie Tech will be highly favored to annex its seventh victory of the season when the Tartans meet the Westminster College Titans Saturday afternoon at College Field in New Wilmington.

Game time has been moved up to 1:45 to allow for 30 minute halftime cornerstone laying ceremonies at the sit of the new men's dormitory adjacent to the football field. Just prior to the beginning of the game the renowned Kiltie band of Carnegie Tech, the only college band in the country completely outfitted in authentic Scotch kiltie uniforms, will perform.

Up to last week's 66-0 defeat handed them by the undefeated Lehigh eleven, the Tartans had taken six straight contests, scoring an average of better than 25 points per game.

Good Backfields

The Tartans will call on 180-pound Quent Holtz to direct the teams' strategy from the quarterback slot. Holtz, who owns the strongest passing arm on the team, is also highly rated as a successful line plunger. Along with Holtz in the backfield will be Nick Simcic, 175-pound halfback and leading ground gainer for the Tartans. John Luchok, 180-pound fast sprinter, will fill the other halfback position, and Arne Oberg, the team's punter, will handle the fullback slot.

Westminter will stick with its small but fast backfield in working for an upset win over the Plaid. Bob Sistek will be at his usual quarterback position with Carl Mantz, Larry Verone and Paul Campbell as his running mates.

Last Game For Three

The game will see three senior members of the Titan squad playing their last college football. Co-captain Brick Stevens will see final action at tackle and Chuck Paul will play his final game at fullback. Co-captain Dick Sylvester, a senior, who has been on the injured list most of the season, is expected to see action at halfback.

Probable starting lineups:

Westminster		Carnegie Tech
Welty	LE	Wilson
Stevens	LT	Stahle
Riazzi	LG	Wiseman
Bowser	C	Krotec
Veights	RG	Rusnak
Burdulis	RT	Lange
Welty	RE	Fougere
Sistek	QB	Holtz
Mantz	LH	Simcic
Verone	RH	Luchok
Campbell	FB	Oberg

Bill Watson, in his four years of college ball, has proven himself one of the best lineman ever to perform at Youngstown college. His play last season merited him a first team position on the Williamson Rating system Middle College All-American team.

Touchdown Terror

MEET a future Ohio State football star. He is Doug Goodsell, 17-year-old Upper Arlington, O., halfback who has scored 33 touchdowns this season and has chosen Ohio State although some 40 other schools were after him. "Dashin' Doug" scored 199 of the team's 440 points. (International)

Knickerbockers Defeat Lakers

Boston Celtics Win Sixth In Row

(By International News Service)

If coach Joe Lapchick was wondering when his New York Knickerbockers were going to live up to their pre-season expectations and last year's form, Mr. Lapchick can stop worrying.

The New Yorkers stopped the champion Minneapolis Lakers with an impressive 71 to 69 victory last night, but the win was far from being easy, as the score indicates.

The win was the Knicks' third straight.

Boston Wins Sixth

Boston's Celtics, the surprise team of the eastern division of the National Basketball Association, scored a resounding win last night, dumping the Baltimore Bullets, 82 to 73, for their sixth straight.

However, the Philadelphia Warriors remained tied with the Celtics for first place as they defeated the Indianapolis Olympians 84 to 67.

And the top quintet in the western division, the Tri-Cities Blackhawks, shaded the Syracuse Nationals 79 to 75.

County League To Hold 28th Annual Banquet

Lawrence County Baseball league will hold its 28th annual banquet Saturday evening at 6:30 at St. Monico's church in Wampum.

American League baseball umpire, professional football official and former Grove City college football coach, Charley Berry, will be principal.

A good program for the evening has been arranged, it is announced by Alex Samuels, league president.

Attorney Joseph McFate will be toastmaster.

Mohawks Regain Lead In League

(By International News Service)

Cincinnati's Mohawks were back at the head of the class in the American Hockey League today as a result of their 4-2 win over the New Haven Ramblers.

The Mohawks, who were tied with the Cleveland Barons for the top spot in the Western Division and in the league, now are two points in front of the Cleveland Icers, who were idle last night.

In the Eastern Division of the loop, Buffalo's first place spot also will be endangered. The Bisons will have to defeat the Clevelanders or face the possibility of having the Hershey Bears move into a first place division tie. The Bears play the New Haven Ramblers.

In the only other game Pittsburgh plays host to St. Louis.

Two other games were played in the AHL last night. Providence defeated St. Louis, 5-3, and Springfield dumped Indianapolis, 3-1.

Football Players To Dance Tonight

Football squad of New Castle High which had a good season, despite two early season defeats, and their girl friends, will be the guests of B.P.O.E. No. 69 lodge, at a dance to be held tonight in the Elks' home ball room. The dance is being sponsored by the Elks' Quarterback Club and members of the Quarterback Club are invited to participate.

ARMY CADETS GET TOUGHEST TEST AGAINST STANFORD

Gary Kerkorian, Stanford back — Gil Stephenson, Army back — Bob McColl, Stanford end

Dan Foldberg, Army end

WHAT MAY BE the Army's biggest football test of the season comes up next Saturday, Nov. 18, when the Cadets travel to Palo Alto, Cal., to meet the Stanford University Indians in the day's top intersectional game. Army, undefeated, runs into a Stanford club that is rated one of the best in recent years. It will be the fourth meeting between the two teams, Stanford holding a 2-1 edge in other games. (International)

Ted Williams Will Get Rest

Spring Training Irks Boston Star

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17 — (INS)—Red Sox Manager Steve O'Neill gave assurance today that Ted Williams, his temperamental outfielder, will play in spring training games as long as he is 100 per cent physcially fit.

O'Neill, in Cincinnati for the annual basseball draft, said he didn't expect any trouble with the American League slugging star. "He'll want to play, for he always does," O'Neill declared. "Ruth and Cobb and all the rest of them played in spring training and Ted isn't any bigger than baseball."

Will Rest Ted

O'Neill expressed the possibility of giving Williams a rest when he needs it at the Red Sox camp in Sarasota but added:

"When we go on the road, however, we owe it to the other clubs to have him in the lineup if he is able."

Williams said he played in 37 of the 38 exhibition contests the Red Sox had last season, adding:

"If I don't feel right, I won't play in any next year."

Tony Nocera Rolls 300 Bowling Game

Tony "Nails" Nocera demonstrated perfect bowling Wednesday night at the Parkstown Recreation Center when he rolled 12 straight strikes for the 300 game.

Bob Goodwin, R. H. Davis, George Thompson and Bill Sands, watched the game which started as practice. Nocera rolled a three-game total of 779, with other game scores of 245 and 234.

Stan Bukowski, bowling the same evening was high score man in the Johnson Bronze League, with scores of 199, 231 and 234.

Practice Tonight For Third U.P. Team

Third U. P. church basketball team will practice tonight at the YMCA at 9 o'clock, it is announced.

Any members of the church who wish to try out for the team should be at the Y tonight. Ray Wright has been named coach of the team.

Minnesota's 1950 showing is the worst of any Bierman-coached Gopher team. Bierman's all-time Minnesota record lists 92 victories, 34 defeats and six ties.

Back home after the Yanks' sweep of the 1950 series, Stengel disclosed that he had under doctor's orders, turned down offers of $500 and $1,000 for appearances on the "banquet circuit."

Pirates Grab Metkovich And Dick Long In Draft

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Thirteen of the 16 major league baseball clubs selected 25 minor league players in the annual baseball draft Thursday at a cost of $239,500.

The selections were made from a lost of 5,668 minor league players in drawings in baseball commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler's Cincinnati office. Three National league clubs, New York, Brooklyn and St. Louis, did not make any draft selections.

Still more players may be drafted as Chandler's office will honor telegrams prior to midnight of Nov. 17, the receipt time of the telegrams determining priority.

$10,000 Top Cost

The major league clubs must pay $10,000 for each player from a triple A minor league team, $7,500 for double A players and $6,000 for single A clubs. No one of lower classification was among the 25 selecter Thursday.

National league club selections included:

Pittsburgh Pirates—George Metkovich, outfielder, Oakland, Calif.; Richard D. Long, first baseman, Kansas City.

Philadelphia Phillies — Andrew Hansen, Pitcher, Minneapolis; Del Wilbur, catcher, Rochester.

American league club selections included:

Philadelphia Athletics — Morris Martin, pitcher, St. Paul; Edward Sancoff, second baseman, Jersey City.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

A LITTLE EARLIER than usual, the collegiate football races are being wrapped up and the top clubs are casting glances bowl-ward.

As usual, the major interest is in the Big Ten and the Rose Bowl representative there. And, as usual, the situation is scrambled.

Undoubtedly, Ohio State is the best team in the Big Ten, but since the Bucks played in the Bowl game last January, they're not eligible.

Wisconsin, beaten by Michigan and Ohio State, has the best chance to gain the nod since Illinois, the other chief contender, has to meet the terrific Buckeyes come next Saturday and the Illini definitely are not the favorite.

However, if Illinois whips Ohio, the Illini would have to get by Northwestern on November 25. Then the Illini would wind up with a record of five conference wins against one defeat.

Wisconsin has one to go in the Conference and this one is against a poor Minnesota team, which should cause no trouble for the Badgers.

Michigan also could get the nod. The Wolverines have won two and lost one and have two to play, against Northwestern Saturday and the finale against the powerful Buckeyes.

It's quite a mixup involving the three competitors, too. Wisconsin beat Illinois; the Illini whipped Michigan and Michigan trimmed Wisconsin.

—o—

THE OTHER HALF of the Rose Bowl competition probably will be California, which has copped five conference games already and only has to trim Stanford in the "big one" November 25 for a perfect league record.

Washington, with one of its best teams, also is in the running, having won four and lost one with two to play. Washington's only loss was to California. The Huskies play Southern California and Washington State and if they whip both and California loses to Stanford, the Huskies would have a 6-1 record as against California's 5-1.

In the Southwest, Texas is roaring along to a Bowl bid but Texas still has Texas A. & M., conqueror of Southern Methodist, and Texas Christian to face.

The Aggies, coming back to football prominence, have lost only to Oklahoma and Baylor.

In the South, Kentucky and Tennessee (beaten once) roll along, and Clemson and Miami, Fla., are undefeated but tied once.

In the Midlands, Oklahoma continues to carry on its victory streak but still has Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma A. & M. to face.

Wyoming, in the Rocky Mountain sector, appears a cinch to go all the way for only Denver remains on its schedule. The Cowboys have won all eight of its games to date and are due for a Bowl bid.

Although the season rapidly is drawing to a close, the Bowl bids will have to wait. The rough games are ahead for most of the contenders.

Ezzard Will Lose Mustache

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Ezzard Charles, world's heavyweight boxing champion, doesn't figure on beating challenger Dick Barone by only a whisker in the title bout in Cincinnati on November 28.

And the City Boxing Commission made it certain yesterday by telling Charles to shave off his mustache before fighting the Syracuse contender.

Charles has expressed great pride in the hirsute adornment but Paul Cain, commission chairman told him this ruling calling for "clean shaves" applies "not only to the champion, but to all boxers who fight in Cincinnati rings."

Ohio State Cancels Navy Grid Series

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17.—I(NS)—Ohio State university has cancelled a two-game football series with Navy scheduled to start October 81, 1952, in the Ohio stadium.

OSU Athletic Director Richard C Larkins said the cancellation was "due to a change in the athletic policy at the naval academy and its attempt to lighten and moderate its schedules."

Larkins pointed out that "this is not a break in athletic relations between Ohio State and the naval academy."

Asked who would fill the dates in 1952 and 1953 vacated by Navy, Larkins replied, "the board has instructed me to proceed."

Last week Larkins said he was hopeful that Ohio State in the near future would be able to play Army. Ohio State currently ranks No. 1 in the nation. Army is undefeated, untied and holds No. 3 spot nationally.

The Phillies gave a full share of $4,081.34 to Curt Simmons, star pitcher who was drafted into the Army as a National Guardsman a month before the season was over.

INDIANS' FORTUNES IN HANDS OF AL LOPEZ NOW

Lopez, new Cleveland manager

As Pirate catcher

CLEVELAND'S new manager, Al Lopez, former Pittsburgh and Cleveland catcher and successful manager at Indianapolis the last three years, is pictured as he appeared while playing for the Indians and Pirates. Lopez, given a two-year contract, replaces Lou Boudreau, who has been the Tribe's manager since 1942. Boudreau led Cleveland to a pennant and a world title in 1948. (International)

Gavilan Meets Graham Tonight

NEW YORK, Nov. 17—(INS)—The Hawk from Havana is going to try it again in Madison Square Garden this evening against Billy Graham and this time he'd better fly high. The Hawk, who is the sleek and slick-haired Kid Gavilan, has been having his wings clipped too often for comfort in recent starts.

It's true that the wings have been clipped only a little at a time, through a series of split-decisions against him. But by now the clipping is getting close to the money bone, where it hurts.

Pfc. Curtis T. Simmons—Curt Simmons, former southpaw hurler for the Philadelphia Phillies—will attend a seven-week physical training and athletic director course at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Rickey Silent On Boudreau

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17 — (INS)—Branch Rickey new general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League, said today that he has not "talked or contacted" Lou Boudreau, the ousted manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Rickey told International News Service:

"I haven't talked to him or contacted him. As for the managerial situation at Pittsburgh, I won't affirm anything. I just don't want to discuss it."

Present at today's meeting was Al Lopez, former Indianapolis manager in the American Association recently named to succeed Boudreau as Cleveland manager.

Seek Injunction To Bar Picketing In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Bell Telephone company seeks an injunction in Philadelphia today to bar Western Electric strikers from picketing its buildings as an aftermath of two days of skirmishes between pickets and police.

The CIO communications workers were asked to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

Meanwhile, all CIO locals in the city were alerted to "take any action necessary" to help the striking equipment and installation workers.

The CIO executive council governing 100,000 area members charged the police department was being used as a "strike-breaking agency," and accused management of forcing employes to sign "yellow dog" contracts.

Red Wings Top Chicago, 5 To 1

(By International News Service)

The Detroit Red Wings crept within two points of the National Hockey League lead today as first place Toronto showed signs of losing its early sparkle.

The Maple Leafs scored in the first 20 seconds of play last night at Montreal then were mowed under by the Canadiens, 5 to 2. Two goals by Busher Curry led the Canadiens as they gained their first victory in their last seven starts.

Detroit, meanwhile, walloped Chicago, 5 to 1, to move within one victory of first place.

VOLANT

CHURCH SERVICES

Presbyterian — Morning service, 10 a.m., Rev. A. B. Weisz, pastor; Sunday school 11 a.m., Jesse Shaffer, supt.

Methodist — Sunday school, 10 a.m., Jack Wallace, supt.; morning worship, 11:15 a.m., Rev. H. A. Silvis, pastor.

W.S.C.S. MEETING

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met in the church parlors Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock for a short business session, after which some of the ladies went to New Wilmington Methodist church.

Miss Mary Shearer of Freeport, Pa., a missionary in China for 14 years, was the speaker of the evening and gave a very interesting talk on her work and conditions in China.

Those attending the service from the local church were Mrs. Gertrude Wallace, Mrs. James Byers, Mrs. Alice Perdue, Mrs. Hettie Johnston and Mrs. C. L. Hunt.

VOLANT NOTES

Guy C. Allen of Buffalo, N.Y., called on his aunt, Mrs. W. J. Allen, Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Allen were week end guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Mary McCrumb, of Highland Heights.

C. H. Bauder has returned to Washington, D. C., after several days spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. John Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown and children of Washington township spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Marett.

Mrs. Audley Carr, who has been confined to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment, has recovered sufficiently to be returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lowry attended a family dinner Sunday in the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Drake, of Leesburg in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shaw and daughter, Gloria Jean, of Ormond Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Ritenour and son, Lewis, of Grove City, spent Thursday with Mrs. Ritenour's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Byers and children spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ritenour of Grove City.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shaw and daughter, Gloria Jean, of Ormond Beach, Fla., who have been visiting relatives in Volant, Leesburg and Clintonville for two weeks, left Monday to return to their home in Florida. Mr. Shaw is returning to the army November 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ligo were recent callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hunt.

The Volant W.C.T.U. will meet in the Methodist church Friday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., with Mrs. Myra McConnell, leader.

Mrs. Daisy Litzenberg is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. William Van Meter is spending a few days with her neice, Mrs. Frank Kaufman, of Wilmington Junction.

Trainless Railroad Still Pays Dividend

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — Imagine owning stock in a railroad company which lacks locomotives, cars, and does not have any terminals nor operates a single mile of track.

Yet, yearly, some 1,500 stockholders collect an 80 per cent dividend.

Named the North Pennsylvania Railroad in 1852 and leased, lock stock and barrel, to the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad in 1879 for a period of 990 years, this phantom railroad hasn't missed a single payment to the holders of $5,552,650 stock. Stockholders receive a dividend of $4 a share on the $50 par value.

This railroad operated mainly between Philadelphia, Bethlehem, to Doylestown and connecting to New York, with the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Records show that these early managers were shrewd.

One lease was drawn up in 1879, paying only $8.75 to a farmer for the intersecting of his property by the railroad.

The deal was kept in such secrecy that few, even in well-posted railroad and financial circles, knew about it.

This perhaps, was one of the shrewdest doings in railroad or financial history.

For a term of 990 years—the Philadelphia and Reading — under the contract, received all of North Pennsy's tracks, stations, rolling stock and other assets.

The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad in return assumed the debt of $6,436,995 and agreed to pay North Penn stockholders a dividend of 6 per cent the first two years, 7 per cent the next two, and 8 per cent from then on.

If it wants it, the North Pennsylvania can have its railroad back in the year 2969.

New York Stocks

Stock Market Tone Improved

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Strength in rails and special issues featured a selectively improved stock market today.

The rise in carrier stocks represented the eighth consecutive daily advance in the averages.

Monsanto Chemical was a feature with a 2 point rise to 66⅞. United Aircraft was up ⅞ at 32⅜, Bell Aircraft up ½ at 22½, and International Paper up ½ at 47.

In the pivotal list, General Motors was up ⅛ at 48⅛, Bethlehem Steel off ¼ at 44⅜, U. S. Steel up ⅛ at 39⅞, General Electric up ⅛ at 50 and Chrysler off ¼ at 69⅞.

The bond market ruled higher with second-grade rails in demand.

Rubber futures rallied 3 cents a pound to highlight the commodity markets. Cotton gained 65 cents a bale, but wheat was down ⅝ and corn dropped ⅞.

Safety Meeting Tonight At 7

To Present Dout With Safety Award

Leaders in accident prevention from all over Pennsylvania will be in The Castleton hotel tonight at 7 when the accident prevention conference of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association will be held.

This is the first meeting of its kind to be held by the PMTA west of the Alleghenies and attending it will be representatives of PMTA chapters in other counties, city and county officials, representatives of industry and merchants. The conference is open to the public.

"Driver of Month"

Featuring the meeting will be the presentation to Edward L. Dout of New Castle the "Driver of the Month" award of the PMTA. Of all the truck drivers in Pennsylvania Mr. Dout has been singled out for this unusual distinction. He has driven trucks 537,600 miles in his 32 years of experience without a chargeable accident.

One other award will be made. Charles B. Wiley, state president of the PMTA, will present W. Robert Smith of Altoona, conference chairman, with the first prize safety trophy won by the PMTA in the American Trucking Association's 16th national truck safety contest.

Safety on the highways and safety in the trucking industry will be stressed at the conference tonight. W. Robert Smith of Altoona will serve as chairman. Speakers will include the following: Robertson Cameron, director of public relations for PMTA; George Lowe, Atlantic Refining company; Owen McDonnell, Philadelphia Inquirer safety editor, and William Pritchard, vice president, Coastal Tank Lines.

The presentation to Mr. Dout will be made by Mayor John F. Haven.

Former Venezuela President Asks UN Help For Prisoners

HAVANA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Romulo Betancourt, exiled former president of Venezuela, appealed today to the United Nations for the protection of all political prisoners in Venezuela.

The appeal was sent by Betancourt, who also heads the Democratic Action party, in a cable to Secretary General Trygve Lie.

He charged that Venezuelan jails are bulging with men from many walks of life, including members of his party, and said that in view of conditions in Venezuela now great fear was felt for the lives of political prisoners.

Betancourt asserted that following the assassination this week of the president of Venezuela's military junta the institution of martial law and censorship had dropped an iron curtain around Venezuela.
